I never found the companion that was so companionable as solitude. We are for the most part more lonely when we go abroad among men than when we stay in our chambers. A man thinking or working is always alone, let him be where he will.

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible, without surrender, be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story . . .

*Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection.
Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment, it is perennial as the grass . . .*

You are a child of the universe; no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

*Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive him to be;
and whatever your labors and aspirations in the noisy confusion of life;
keep peace with your soul.
With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.*

The Crowd

Liberation and life

College life presents an opportunity to form ideas and become part of world affairs. Voicing opinions or learning to deal with new problems helps to prepare students for a life beyond college.

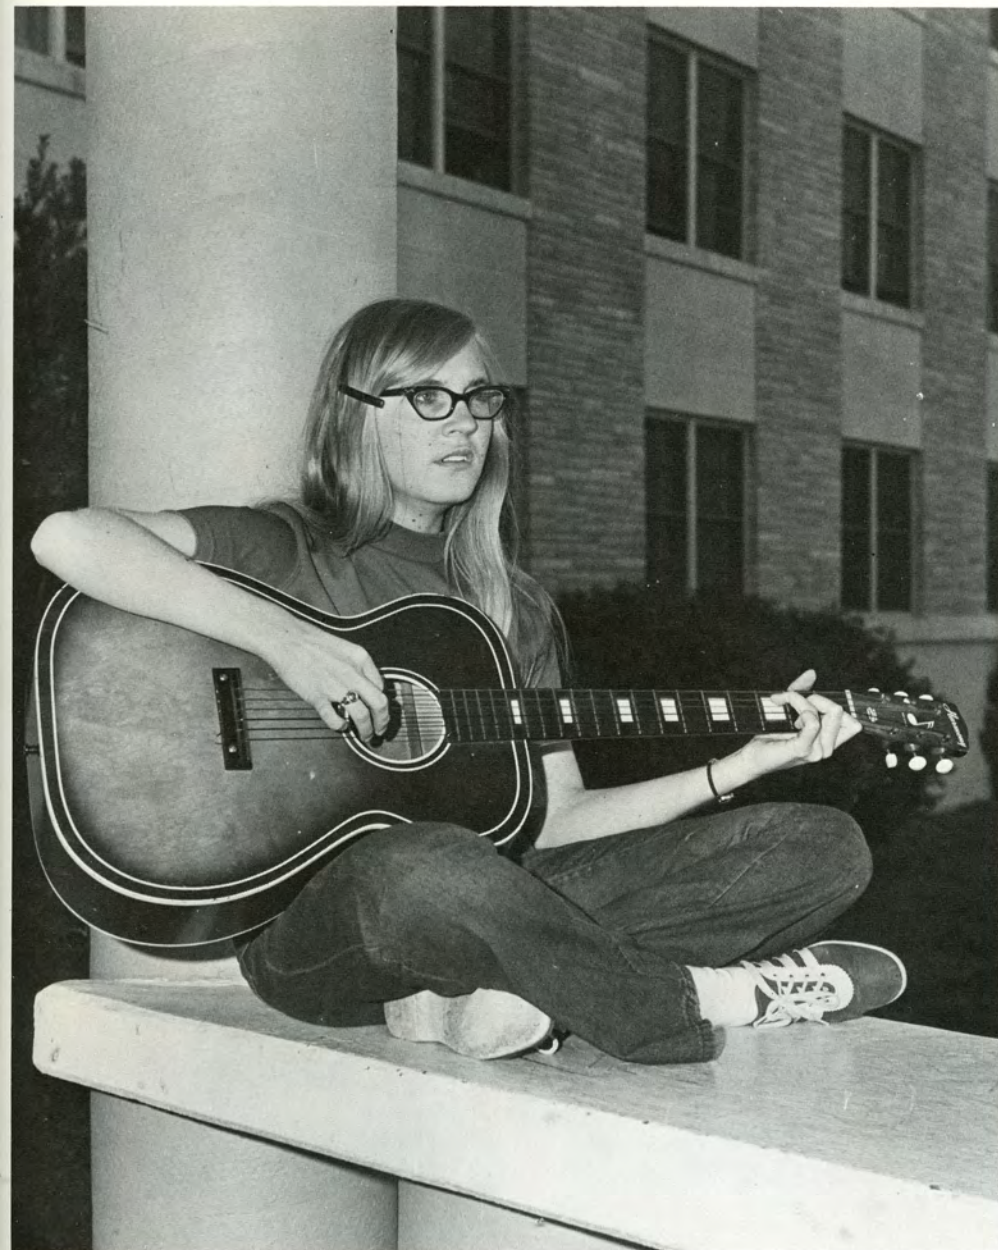

Surprises and solitude

Life at Fort Hays State isn't all studies. Many students have experiences that they would never have dreamed possible. These factors help to make college life easier and more rewarding.

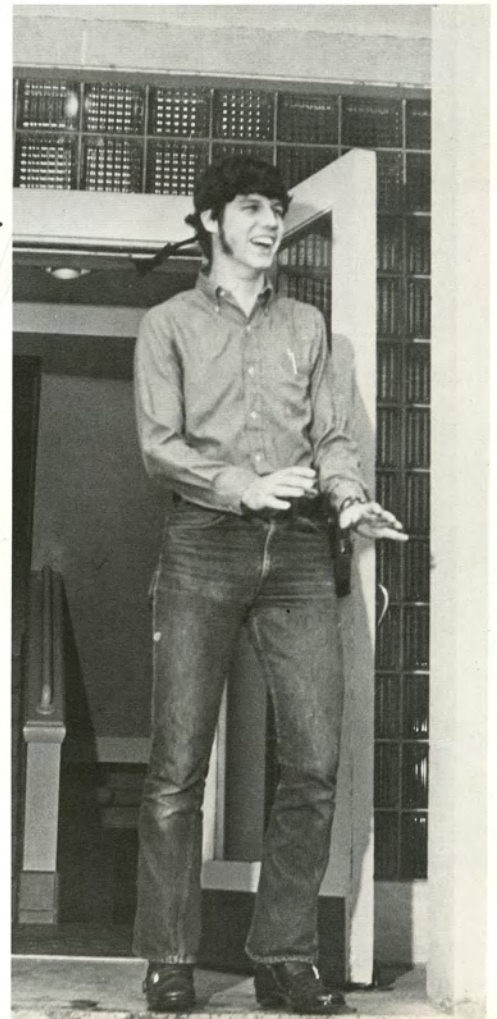

After receiving a position as a Resident Assistant for next year, Helene Gass finds that it is difficult to remain dignified when accepting the honor.

There are chances to enjoy peaceful moments alone, even in a crowd. Candlelightings and playing the guitar with friends along with other activities occupy many of the tender moments that will be remembered throughout a lifetime.

Longing and leaving

The chaos of packing to leave is interspersed with nostalgic memories of the past year . . . quiet moments alone and with close friends, the joys of Little Sister Weekend, the surprise of being caught off guard . . .

"How the West was won" . . . Homecoming 1972

Miss Fort Hays State

Miss Fort Hays State — Karen Sue Steen, sponsored by Fashion Two-Twenty, will go on to compete in the Miss Kansas Pageant as the FHS representative.

Rodeo Queen

Best Dressed Coed

Best Dressed Coed Debbie Nottingham, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta, now proceeds on to the National Best Dressed Coed on Campus Contest which is sponsored by Glamour Magazine. Of the 21 girls entered in the local contest, she best portrayed the theme, "This is the Way I Feel" and was presented a silver tray and 12 long stemmed red roses.

All smiles, Kathy McAfee accepts congratulations from President Gustad for a 3.90 GPA which earned her the annual President's Endowment Fund Scholarship (top). In the annual Alpha Phi Omega contest, Cheryl Yoxall and Craig Libsack, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta and Alpha Kappa Lambda, were selected Beauty and the Beast. The contest netted over $500 for the FHS Endowment Fund (bottom).

Individual Honors

The people pictured on these pages are representative of the many students and faculty members who receive recognition and honors during the year. Space limitations and deadline dates prohibit including everyone cited for achievement, service or demonstration of ability. Herewith is a cross-section, a complete list is unattainable.

ALLEN, DILLEY, recognized as winner of the Henry Edward Malloy Award and named Outstanding Senior Musician.

BARB CARTER, named Outstanding Senior Woman by Associated Women Students.

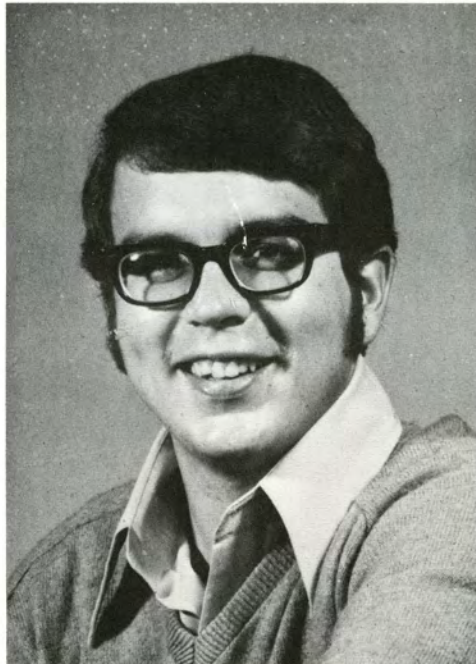

LARRY GERBER, granted Apprenticeship for the Santa Fe Opera Association summer season and winner of state and regional honors in KMTA vocal competition.

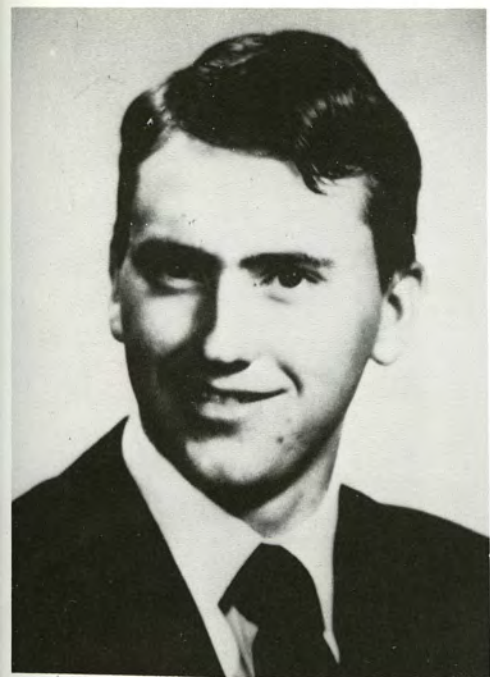

KATHY McGOVERN, named AWS Outstanding Senior Woman.

DANA M. RADCLIFFE, recipient of a Danforth Fellowship which pays tuition plus a stipend to the graduate school of his choice — Yale. It is renewable up to three years.

EILEEN WEBER, named Junior Scholar by Phi Kappa Phi and awarded a one-semester tuition grant.

DIANA TURKLE, named AWS Outstanding Senior Woman.

JERRY L. GRAHAM, recognized as the Outstanding Accounting Student and awarded a $500 scholarship by the Education Foundation of the Kansas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

ORVAN J. ROACH, cited for outstanding performance in agriculture by Delta Tau Alpha, national agriculture honor society.

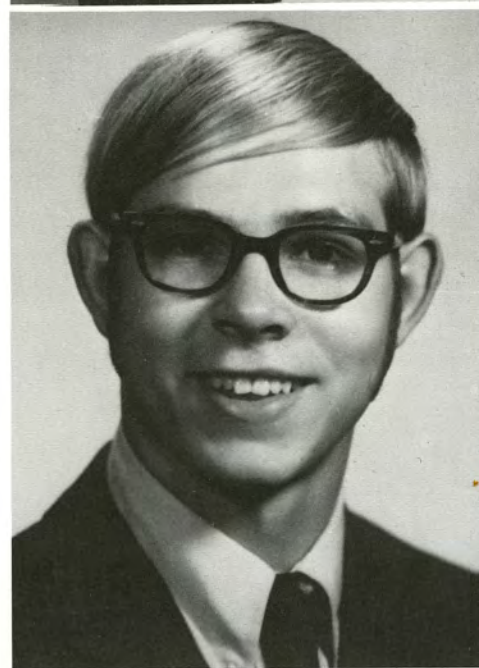

MRS. ALICE MCFARLAND, named Outstanding Faculty Woman by AWS.

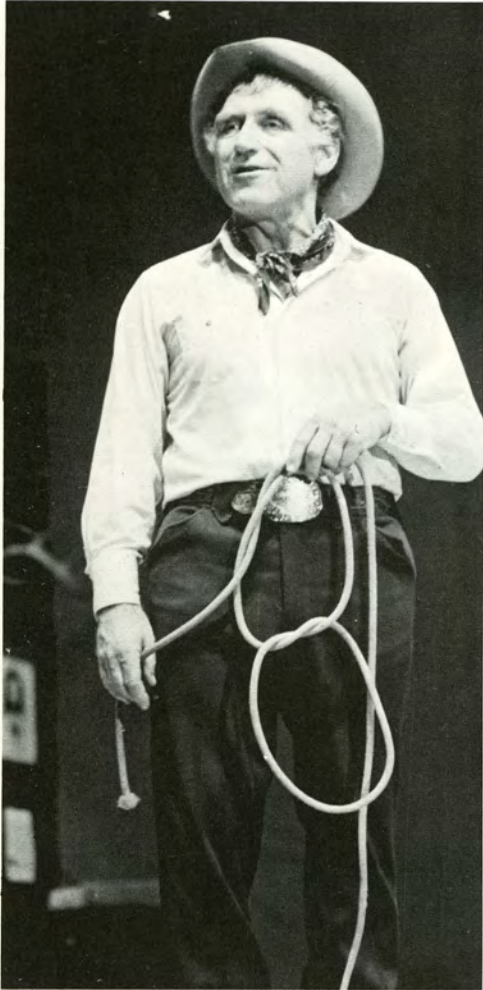

MISS JEAN STOUFFER, named Outstanding Faculty Woman by AWS.

LINDA MEIER, awarded Medal of Merit Award by Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism fraternity.

JOEL WHITE, named Outstanding Student in Phi Beta Lambda, national business fraternity.

MISS ETHEL ARTMAN, DR. HULDA GROESBECK, MRS. MARGERY HARKNESS, MR. KENNETH W. SIMONS; honored as retiring members by the Faculty Association.

James Whitmore, although bearing no facial resemblance to Will Rogers, epitomized him on campus October 25th. Whitmore introduced his audience to the wit and humor that made Will Rogers famous in vaudeville days by presenting selections from his performances.

James Whitmore acquainted students who are too young to remember Will Rogers with the unique personality and type of humor that made him popular during the first third of the century.

Artists and Lectures

Financed through student activity funds and money from gate receipts, the Artists and Lectures programs are usually free to students and are open to the general public when seating space permits. The programs are chosen by a committee of twelve people. President Gustad appoints six faculty members and Student Senate nominates students to fill the remaining six positions.

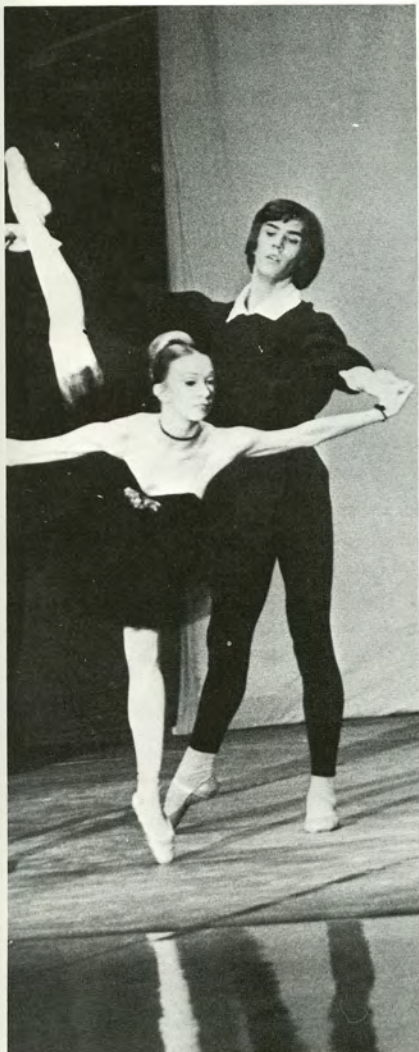

This series of events provides a relaxing break in the busy life of a college student and helps to relieve some of the pressures.

Stubby Kaye appeared in Sheridan Coliseum November 22nd in a road rendition of "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers." Cast as a modern Casanova, he tried to lure three wildly unlikely ladies into his den of sin, which was really his mother's one-room apartment.

Undaunted by the loss of stage equipment due to an accident just hours before show time, the Houston Ballet Company upheld theatre tradition and proceeded on with the show. The Ballet Company featured a repertory of classical and modern work.

The February 4th performance at Fort Hays State was one of many the company of 18 dancers and the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra made on a 14-state tour this year.

The Budapest Symphony presented the sixth performance of their initial American tour November 7th on the Fort Hays campus. Founded with the reorganization of Hungarian Radio, the Symphony plays music by the celebrated Hungarian composers Bardok and Kodaly.

Other performances slated on the tour are Carnegie Hall in New York and the Kennedy Center in Washington, D. C.

George Plimpton, a daring man with an inquisitive nature, spoke to Fort Hays students April 10th about his compulsion to try everything at least once. A graduate of Harvard and Cambridge Universities, Plimpton has written several novels about his experiences which include quarterbacking for the Detroit Lions, pitching to the Major League All Stars in Yankee Stadium and participating in the Professional Golfers' Tour. In attempting to satisfy his curiosity he has also tried professional boxing, tennis and swimming and has played bridge with the experts.

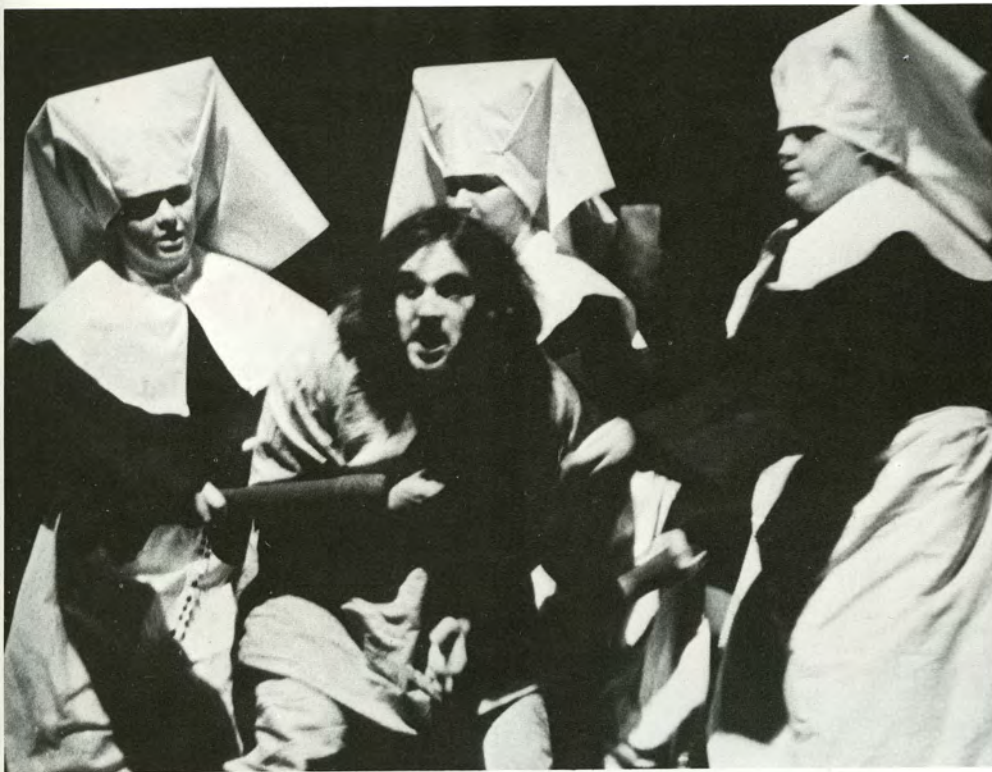

Pirates of Penzance

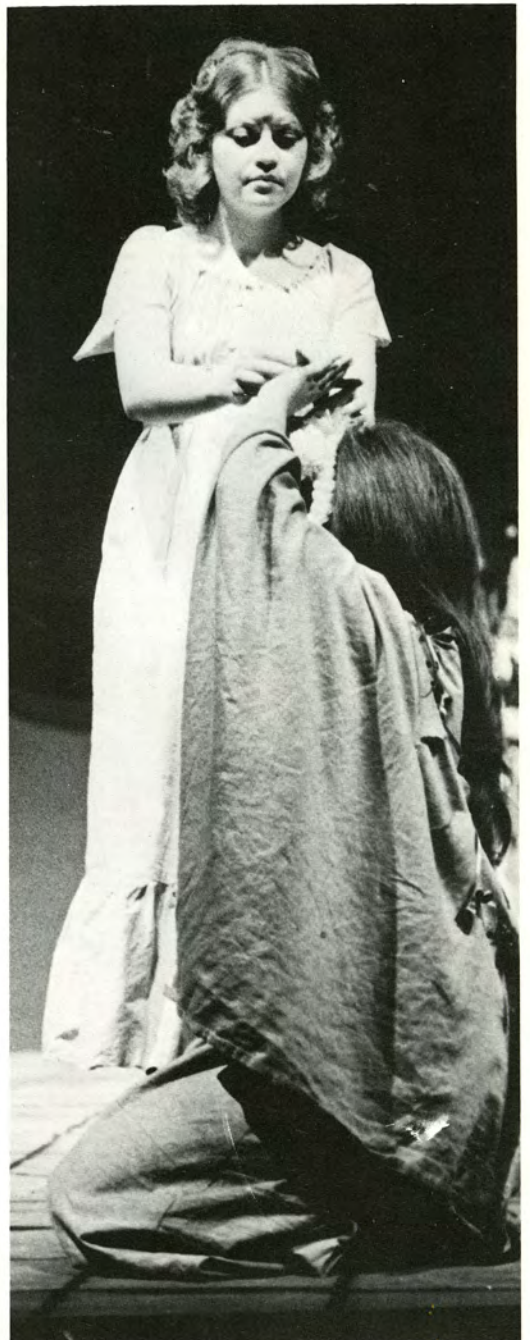

On October 7, 8, and 9th, through the combined efforts of the music and drama departments, "The Pirates of Penzance" was presented. This presentation helped to energize the attitudes of some students toward operas.

Marat-Sade

Combining satirical qualities with song and dance, and adding a touch of tragedy set the stage for the major dramatic production of the fall semester. The full title of this play is "The Persecution and Assassination of Jean Paul Marat, as performed by the Inmates of the Asylum of Charenton, under the direction of Marquis De Sade." However, it is more commonly referred to as "Marat-Sade."

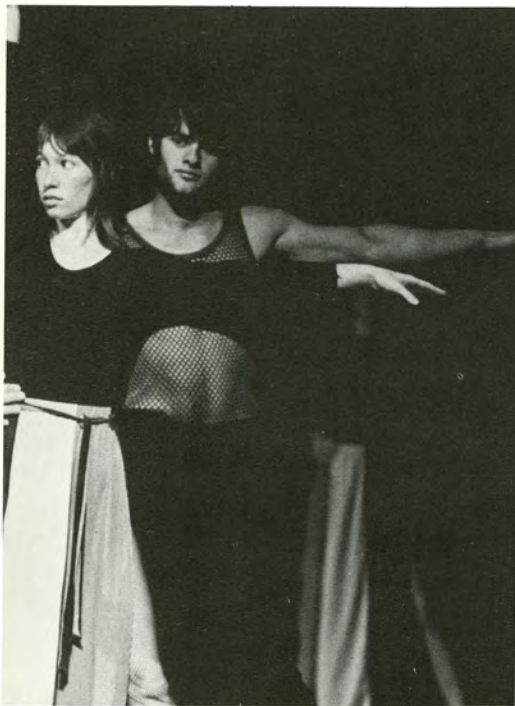

The Fort Hays State Singers departed on a South Pacific USO tour on the sixth of December. Their journey included stops in Japan, Guam, Taiwan and the Philippines, in addition to many other Mid-Pacific Islands.

Fort Hays State Jazz Ensemble held its second annual Home Town Cookin' concert February 29th. Musical selections which helped set the informal atmosphere were, "Maria", "The Start of Something Big", and "Wichita Line-man."

There are many ways of expressing your attitudes in college. The Madrigal and ISU dinners are two methods of reflecting traditional customs and beliefs. The Oratorio performance proclaimed a message through music and a new idea was brought forth by the Orchesis modern dancers.

The Fort Hays State College Leader staff felt a need to open the doors to knowledge about the silent and mysterious life of prisoners at Lansing State Penitentiary (top left). In addition to voicing their opinions, many students find outlets for their interests at various exhibits both on and off campus throughout the year (bottom left and above).

Derby Days

Sigma Chi fraternity sponsored its annual Derby Day activities the weekend of April 7th and 8th. Derby Day events such as the tricycle race, Derby chase, and skinning the snake are frustrating as well as entertaining. Expressions of anguish, concentration, and glee can be seen on the faces of participants. The proceeds are donated to mentally retarded children at Wallace Village in Broomfield, Colo.

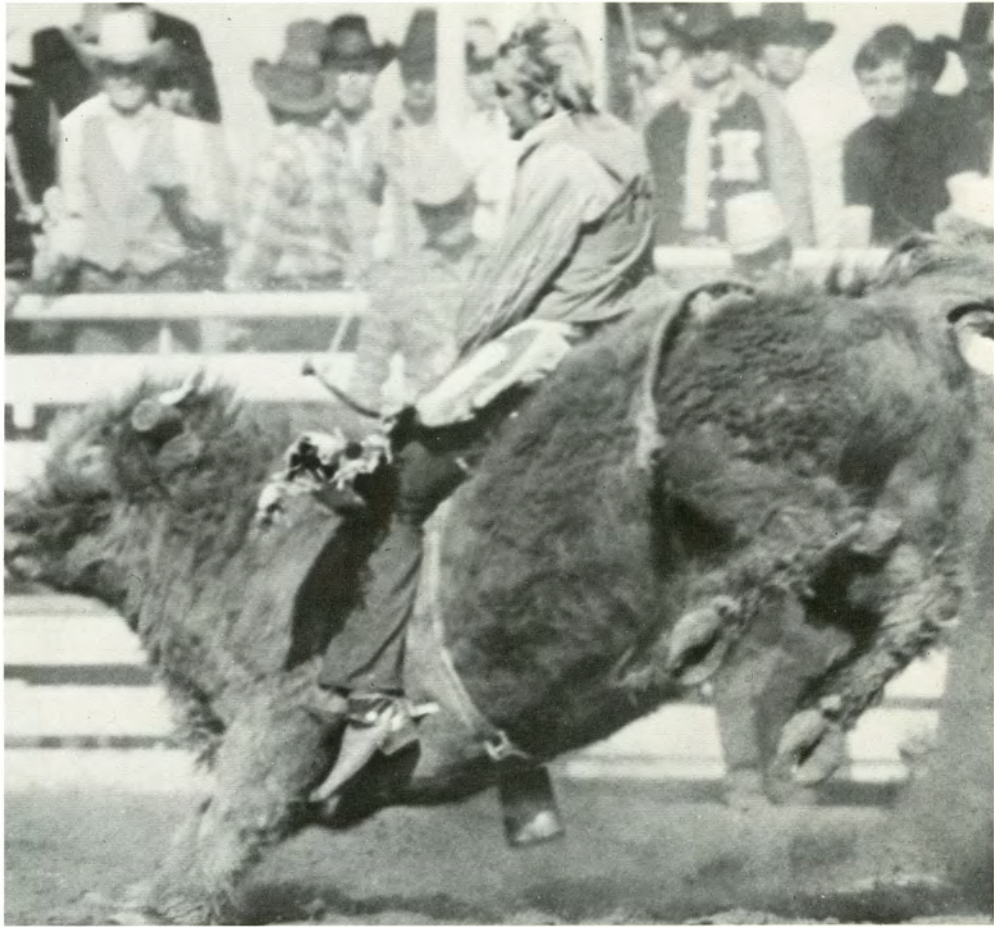

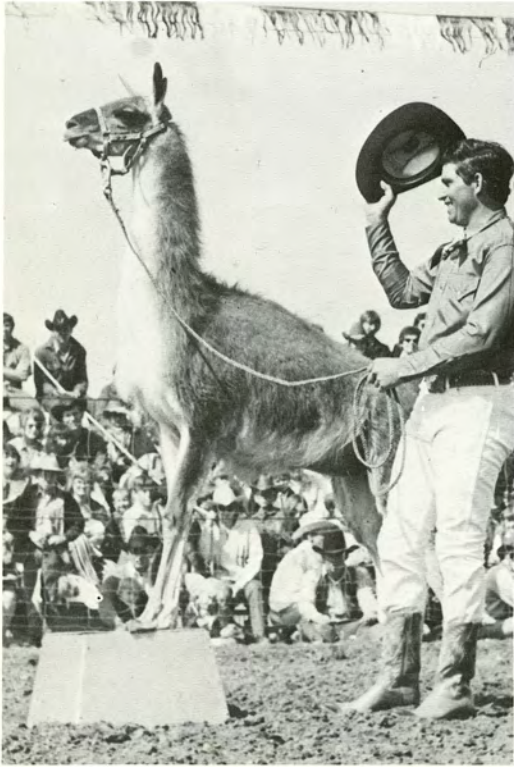

Furlough activities for 1972 got underway with newly-crowned Annette Sulzman reigning as queen. The lapse of time between events such as bicycle racing and the Volkswagen push gave rise to some very whimsical sights.

Anticipation and Anguish

Danger and excitement prevailed at the Seventh Annual Rodeo. Unusual events and the traditional rodeo clown kept the crowd intrigued.

Flinging and being flung

Bed racing, water fighting and pie eating were some of the unique events featured at the Spring Swing Fling Thing, sponsored by Interhall Council April 22nd. Larry Laas and Ken Partry accept the traveling trophy awarded to McGrath Hall at the picnic following the day's events (top right).

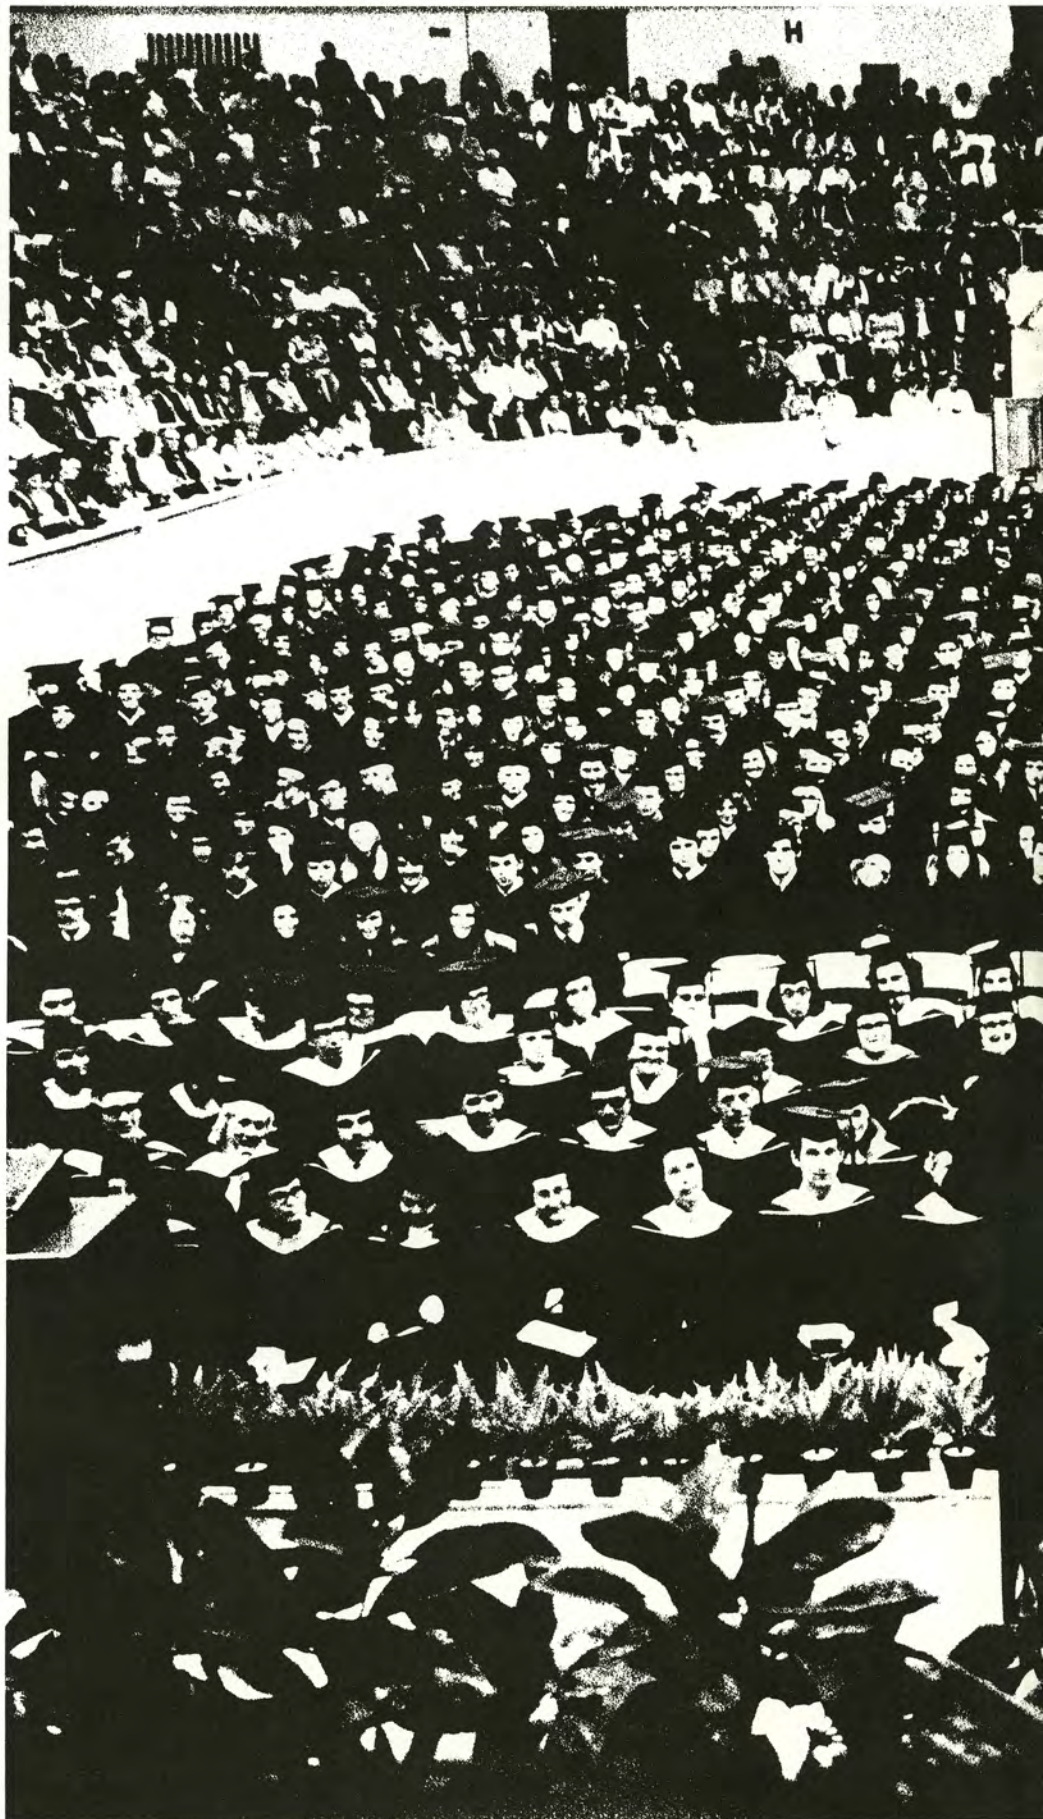

Rain and soggy grass forced Commencement indoors instead of the usual twilight ceremonies at Lewis Field Stadium.

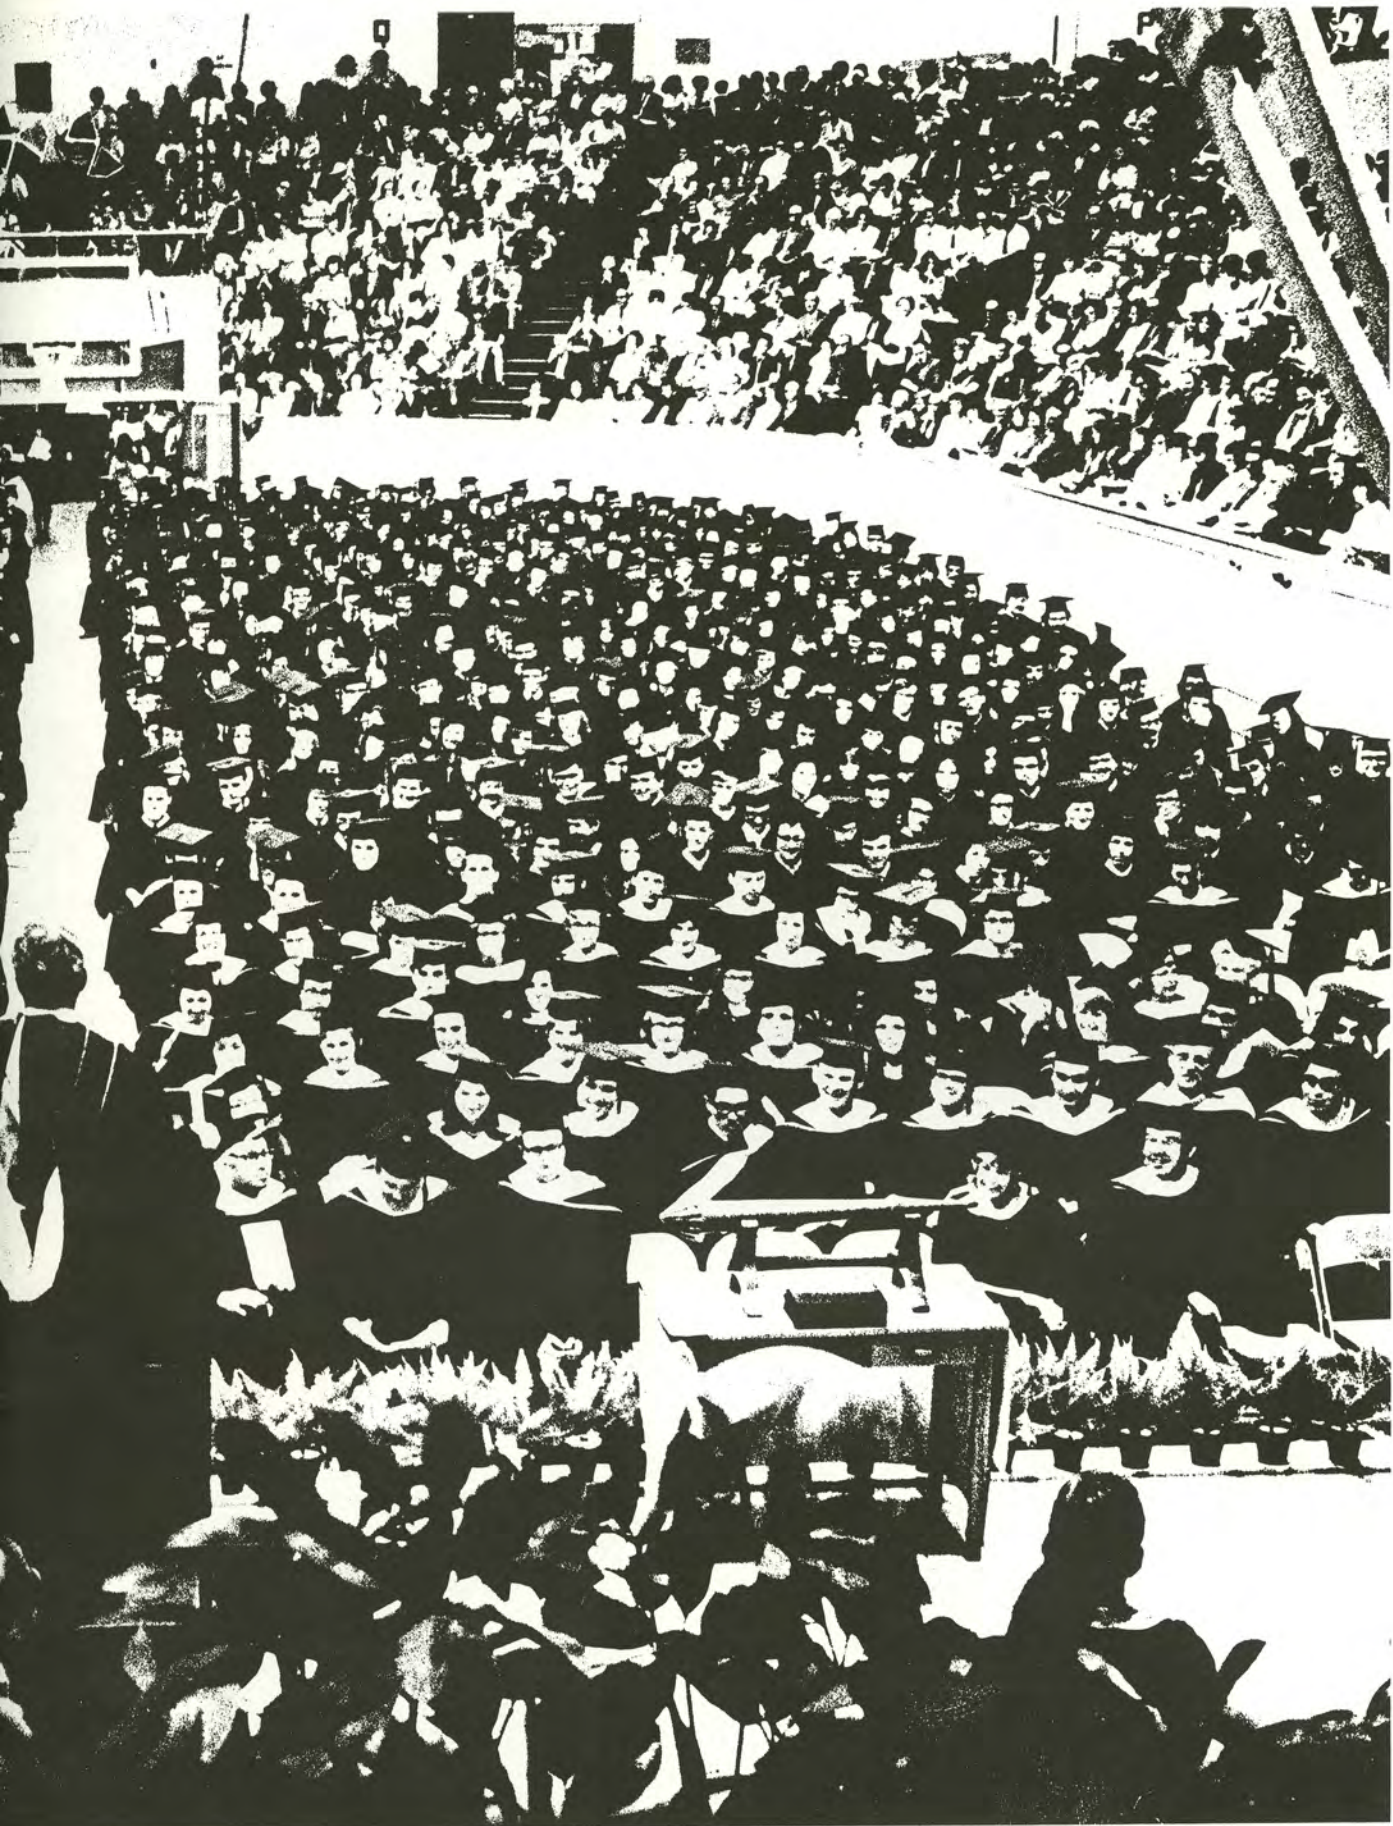

A scramble for tickets for parents and friends was almost fruitless. Graduates received two tickets each and Sheridan Coliseum was packed. The overflow crowd watched via closed circuit TV piped to the Union and other buildings.

Spectators saw only one person represent the entire class of bachelor degree candidates, one for the master's group and one for the specialist degree receive a diploma on stage.

As the "ceremony" ended, graduates sang the FHS Anthem, doffed their caps and gowns, and left them on the vacant seats as they straggled out of the Coliseum and the college.

This was Commencement, 1972. Completion of the new Field House may change the pattern in the future . . . we hope.

Living

Surprise . . .

To honor their "Mother" on her 65th birthday, the women of McMIndes gave her an old-fashioned surprise birthday party on February 10th.

Serving as housemother at McMIndes for the past nine years has made Mrs. Mary Redd acutely aware that her "girls" were always full of surprises. But, according to another housemother, Miss Bonnie Laudick, "Mom" Redd was still floating a week after the event.

After secretly sending out printed invitations to all the women in the hall and other friends of the guest of honor, the originators of the plot invited Mrs. Redd's actual family. They were brought into the party through a "This Is Your Life" skit.

As soon as the initial excitement had worn down, the party settled for the traditional cake and punch and opening of gifts.

To remind their departing "Mother" of her nine years of service, the girls presented her with a pearlized-porcelain coffee/tea service and a scrapbook which they all had signed.

Interhall Council

The Back Door, Inc. was one project completed by Interhall Council in an effort to use the empty space at Custer Hall. The Council, organized to promote more interaction between the dorms, also sponsored a dance in the fall and a dance during the "Spring Fling" weekend they planned for April.

In addition to sponsoring activities for more unification on campus, members were pressed into service as guides for many of the convention delegates who attended meetings held at Fort Hays this year.

Custer Hall

Due to lack of funds, Custer Hall has been cancelled — at least for this year. In an effort to cut expenses, most of the dorm dwellers were forced out of Custer to live in the other four dormitories. But a few loyal Custer fans, less than five, remained under the quite unusual circumstances surrounding an "empty" hall. So, until the Interhall Council converted part of the dorm into the Back Door Inc., Custer was virtually empty, much to the dismay of its former residents. An effort began in the spring of the year to induce off-campus and new students to move into Custer for the fall 1972 semester.

Agnew Hall

The girls who participated in Agnew's pre-Christmas "Tot Watch" for faculty members' children, seemed to have as much fun as their small wards. The children and their sitters played around the decorated tree in Agnew's main lobby and there they were surprised by Santa.

But Christmas wasn't the only active season at Agnew. Halloween found the girls dressing a little strangely for dinner. Intramurals were full of Agnew women who participated in Varsity Basketball and Volleyball. And, of course, the hall banded together to sponsor queens in various contests.

One of their greatest contributions was to school spirit. The care and planning that went into the construction of Agnew's Homecoming float, "Ambush the Hornets" netted them the Theme Trophy.

Mrs. Esther Biays is always around when the girls need some friendly advice (far left). Santa makes a big impression on at least one young gentlemen (top left). Resident Kerry Mapes entertains some of the children during a pre-Christmas babysitting stint (bottom left). Marla Whorton feels glad to have such a big mascot (top right). AGNEW HALL OFFICERS — Front Row: Barb Otte, secretary and Jerry Mapes, president. Back Row: Peggy Bangle, vice-president; Delilah Shay, social chairman; Sue McKain, publicity chairman; Peggy Fiala, treasurer (opposite). Agnew, during an unusually quiet evening, lacks the ordinary flow of students (above).

McGrath Hall

The men of McGrath took decisive steps this year in making their dorm life more enjoyable. The greatest step of all, according to some residents, was the "two o'clock" visiting hour that allows guests to remain in dorm rooms until two o'clock each morning.

Residents again voted to provide a self-operated continental breakfast every morning. This gave them a chance to eat when they had time and were hungry. However, second semester changes in the food service made it necessary to do away with this luxury. Installation of a "pay" pool table not only offered residents a new form of recreation, but also contributed funds to the hall treasury.

McMindes Hall

As the major activity of the year, the Women of McMindes Hall sponsored Rose Huston for 1971-72 Football Homecoming Queen. Troops of determined residents planned, painted and publicized their way to victory. Keeping hundreds of girls happy was a major problem. Among the solutions were art and craft sessions held in the basement. The pre-Christmas favorite was a course in candlemaking. And to help keep up school spirit, the McMindes Marching Kazoo Band participated from the stands at games, and marched, disguised as a "Tiger-pillar" during the Homecoming parade.

Wiest Hall

Sports! Wiest Hall men took pride in their physical activities this year. Football. Baseball. Track. Basketball. Intramurals. The metal-netted basketball court behind the dorm provided a good place to practice and have fun during the warmer weather. But this year Wiest moved for more indoor entertainment. To supplement the parties and dances, the Wiest Hall Game Room, equipped with pool tables and pin-ball machines, officially opened for business in early February with the aid of Housing Director James Nugent, who cut the ribbon.

As hall Vice-President Dale Rein and Housemother Mrs. Marguerite Walters look on, Housing Director James Nugent cuts the ceremonial ribbon that opens the Game Room (far left). Warm weather brings the men out to the basketball court (far left). Wiest's new addition contrasts with the older part of the dorm (top left). Stan Denton still finds time to study, even on a warm, sunny afternoon (opposite).

But when two of the roommates, Pam Krug and Jackie Fink, decide she's had enough sleep, Sharon is in for a little friendly trouble (above center and opposite). In the absence of his two roommates, Craig Haneke finds a quiet room is an excellent place to study (above far right). Devona Engel seems to feel that the ironing board is becoming a permanent fixture in the living room (far right).

Off Campus Housing

Your own apartment. It meant climbing up two flights of stairs, or descending to a basement. It was entering through your landlord's front door or climbing in through your own kitchen window because you lost your key. It meant living by yourself and wishing you weren't, or not living by yourself and wishing you were. The many married and single students who lived off-campus in apartments of their own began to realize the responsibilities of managing their own homes. Newcomers to the off-campus group found out that having an apartment meant more than having lots of parties and doing whatever you wanted to do, whenever you wanted to do it. Cleaning, cooking, sewing, paying bills, and picking up after messy roommates suddenly gave rise to a great appreciation for parents. But as the year progressed, the problems became routine and the apartment became increasingly suited to your tastes and definitely became a part of you. So no matter who lives there next, it will always be your apartment.

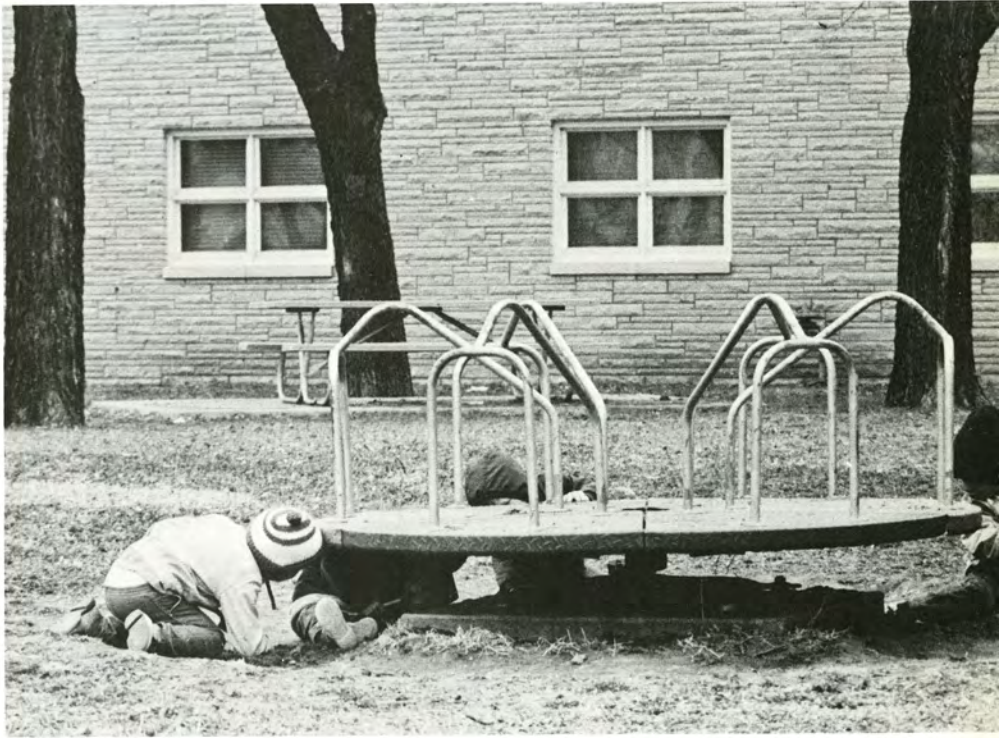

Clothespinned and nameplated, Wooster mailboxes await the morning's delivery (above). Carol Siefkes uses the laundry room situated between Wooster's C and D sections (top center). Children and their possessions decorate the area. Whether accompanied by their parents or off on an excursion of their own, children find plenty to do (across bottom). Apartment windows light up in one of the newer sections of Wooster Place (top far right).

Wooster Place

Children everywhere! The only things missing from the usual family scene are pets. Wooster Place is not for those who have to have complete and utter silence at all times. It is also not for those whose idea of a small place is three bedrooms and a couple of bathrooms. But, for married students on a tight budget, Wooster Place provides a comfortable, reasonably priced home. Depending on whether you want a one or two bedroom apartment, the rent is $75 or $85, respectively. Most of the bills are paid. There are four rooms: kitchen, living room, bedroom and bathroom. The cost of your cable TV hookup is included in the bill, even if your TV isn't working. And the college repairs just about everything that is damaged due to normal wear and tear. It's also quite easy to find a job at Wooster, that is, if you like to babysit.

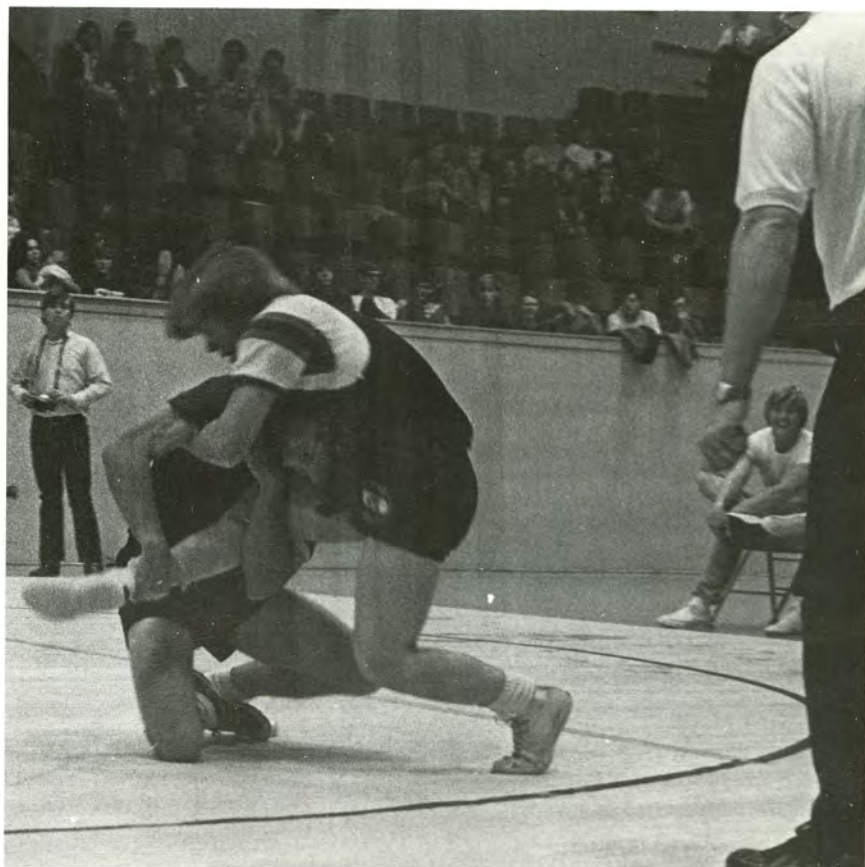

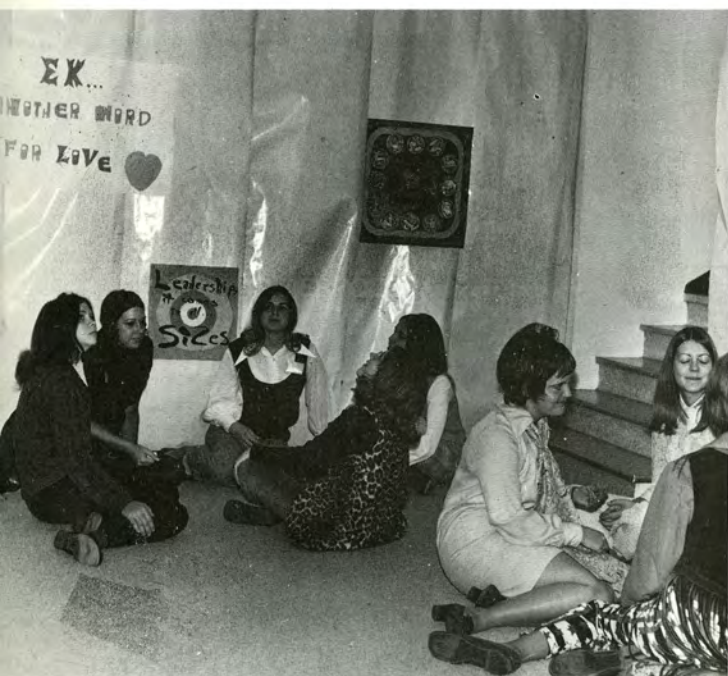

Greeks

Being Greek this year meant winning awards in everything from football to blood drives. It meant helping children, teens and adults. Being Greek meant working with others to make something better. And, as always, being Greek meant having fun, entertaining others or just entertaining yourself.

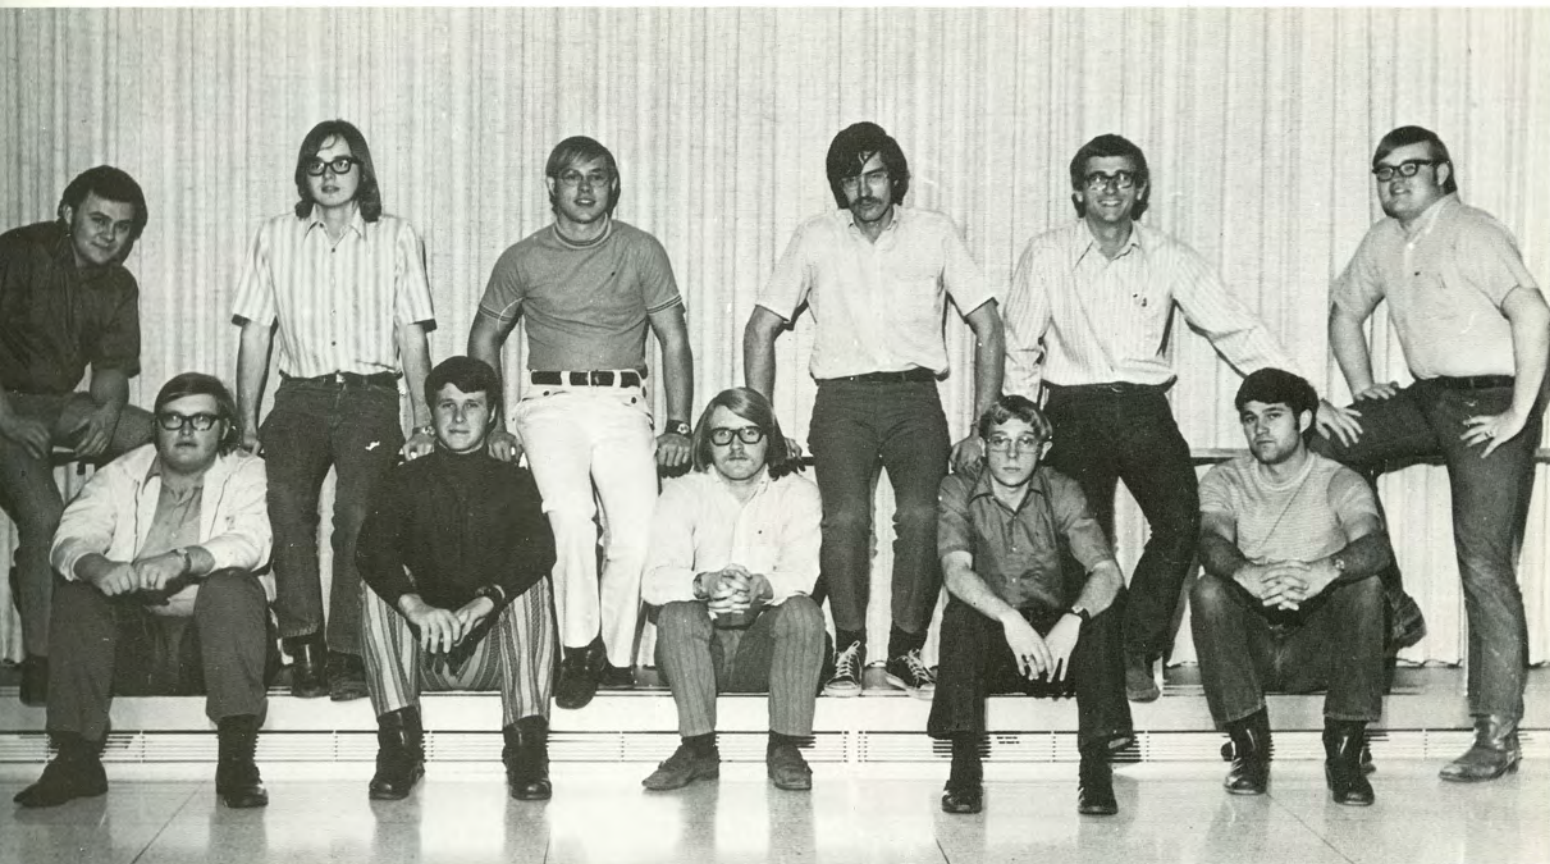

Greeks hold informal get-togethers and participate in many campus competitions, such as intramurals and Furlough (above, center, and opposite). At an informal meeting, prospective members learn the advantages of becoming an Acacian (bottom far right).

Acacia

Acacia is the only national social fraternity with a Greek word as a name. It is also the newest fraternity at Fort Hays State.

The initial 14 members were installed Nov. 11, 1971. In coordination with the other Greeks, the Acacians participated in the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon. On their own, the group organized a toy drive and an ecological movement where they picked up litter around Big Creek and the highway.

The group is now researching the possibilities of acquiring a house for next year.

Panhellenic Council

For the second consecutive year, the Panhellenic Active Scholarship Award was presented to the women of Sigma Sigma Sigma, whose newer sisters retained the Pledge Award for the third year in a row. Presenting the award to Kathy McGovern, Tri-Sig representative, at the fall scholarship tea is Panhellenic President Charli Borger (above). The Sigma Kappas and the other three sororities put forth a lot of effort during Rush Week activities (above center). The Panhellenic Council is made up of representatives of all four social sororities. PANHELLENIC COUNCIL MEMBERS — Front Row: Kathy McGovern, Dawn Dunn, Sharon Feikert. Back Row: Debbie Ring, Charli Borger, president; Ruth Robinson, Carol Turney, Jackie Wait, Leann Muirhead (opposite).

Interfraternity Council

Alpha Gamma Delta

An organization with members active in Tiger Paws, Fort Hays Singers and the cheerleading squad can expect to have a very busy year. Alpha Gamma Delta did, and it was a successful year, too.

Several Alpha Gams distinguished themselves by earning personal honors. Cheryl Yoxall was first runner up for Homecoming Queen, the American Association of University Women's Award was presented to Brenda Coats. Debbie Nottingham was voted Best Dressed Coed and Sherry Riegel was honored as Miss Congeniality in the Miss Fort Hays State beauty pageant.

Alpha Kappa Lambda men retired the Traveling Religious Award by winning it three consecutive years (above).

Alpha Kappa Lambda

This year the Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity had the dubious honor of sponsoring the male winner of the "Beauty and the Beast" contest, Craig Libsack. But not all of AKL's triumphs were in such a light vein. For the third year, the men won the Traveling Religious Award from the National Headquarters of Alpha Kappa Lambda — and now it will take up permanent residence in Hays.

Throughout the year, the men participated in all intramurals and most other campus activities. Their own social calendar was highlighted this year with the "Go to Hell" informal and the "Spring Splash" formal.

Delta Sigma Phi

The Delta Sigma Phi fraternity engaged in the local Big Brother program this year, providing "Big Brothers" for the fatherless boys in the community. Eight of the 60 Delta Sigs had little brothers at the end of the school year.

The fraternity men also showed a great aptitude for physical activities. Five members were on the gymnastic squad, four were on the golf team, and one played on the football team.

With their interest in sports, the intramural competition was easily the fraternity's most successful drive. They won an over-all second in the program. In an overtime game, the men placed second in the all-school football intramurals, while winning the Greek League for the second year in a row. In basketball, the Delta Sigs won both all-school and all-Greek honors.

Delta Zeta

Winning the Outstanding Chapter Trophy and the Scholarship Trophy for their province during Province Weekend in Omaha, Nebraska, highlighted the year for the Delta Zeta's.

At home, Diana Turkle was named Outstanding Senior Woman. And with the help of the TKE's, the sorority won both the Sweepstakes and Animation awards for their Homecoming float.

Working with Phi Sigma Epsilon, the women held a car wash for the Homer B. Reed Foundation. The sorority also gave a Halloween party for the retarded children of Hays.

Most of the members were involved in campus activities, including Tiger Debs and cheerleading. Festival occasions included the Fall Branding Party and the annual Rose Formal in the spring.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Phi Sigma Epsilon enjoyed a very productive year in '71-'72. During the year the men participated in a number of activities through which each member seemed to have gained quite an insight into the troubles and joys of everyday life. Early in the year the Phi Sigs, with the aid of the Delta Zetas, held a benefit car wash for the Homer B. Reed Center. They also held many money-making projects, one of which was selling Tiger booster cushions at the basketball games.

With these activities, intramurals, and socials the Phi Sigs believe that this year they have reached a level of brotherhood and friendship that only a close knit group such as a fraternity can achieve.

Sigma Chi

The 1971-72 school year found the Sigma Chi fraternity exceptionally busy in campus and community activities. Projects such as the Thanksgiving Canned Food Drive to aid needy families in Hays and Derby Days to raise money for Wallace Village in Colorado were just two of the many charitable activities the Sig Chi's participated in this year. The men also helped with the voter registration drive for area high school seniors, clean-up days at the parks and on campus and workdays at the Homer B. Reed Clinic and the day care center.

Sigma Chi was also actively involved in campus leadership, as Mike Cavanaugh held the post of IFC president, while Marcus Bassett presided over the Seventh Cavalry organization. Moreover, the 72-73 school year shows eight Sig Chi's in Student Senate positions, including the sophomore, junior and senior class presidencies.

Sigma Chi distinguished itself by receiving the scholarship title for the tenth consecutive semester, totaling fourteen out of the last seventeen semesters.

Debbie Ring, Joyce Horyna, Myra Shank and Mary Lea Rauscher visit before one of the dinners held during Rush Week (top left). Ground breaking for the new Sigma Kappa house was held Sept. 12, 1971. Mrs. David Meckenstock, Sigma Kappa Corporation Board President, accompanied by the sorority's president, Mary Lea Rauscher turned the ground on that date, however, actual construction has not yet begun (opposite).

Sigma Kappa

Campus and community work has been of major concern to the Sigma Kappas this year. Holding offices in various campus organizations has kept many of the members busy, but not too busy to devote time and energy to their projects.

A housemother's tea was the first order of the year, followed by an open house for the alums during FHS Homecoming activities.

Joining efforts with the Sigma Chi fraternity, the Sigma K's revitalized the buildings and equipment of the Day Care Center for Exceptional Children. Not to be outdone in scholastics, the pledge class captured the Pledge Scholarship Plaque with a 3.596 average, and the whole sorority joined forces in obtaining the highest over-all sorority grade point average.

Many underprivileged children of Hays were treated to Christmas and Easter parties. The annual swing-a-thon, lasting 25 hours, provided toys to be donated to Hays' Santa Claus.

The Sigma K's showed their sporting natures by entering teams in the Women's Intramural Bowling League, Derby Days and Furlough. Sigma Kappa women provided a pit crew for the bicycle race in the KAYS First Annual Easter Egg Hunt.

With the coming of spring, the Sigma Kappas held their pledge informal Hobo Party and the Pearl and Triangle Formal.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The Sig Eps, chosen to receive the Outstanding Chapter Award, the All-School Intramural Trophy and the first place award in the humorous division of the Homecoming parade, participated fully in all aspects of campus and off-campus life.

To show their more charitable side, the men of Sigma Phi Epsilon participated in the Walk-a-Thon to help raise money for the retarded children in the Ellis county area. The Hays Community Blood Bank awarded the Sig Eps a trophy for their outstanding community service.

Social activities for the year included an Alumni Dinner, Senior Dinner and a Parents' Day for Sig Ep parents. The fraternity's auxiliary, Daughters of the Golden Heart, held a Golden Heart Conclave and banded together with the men to sponsor the Golden Heart Ball where they elected Debbie Nottingham their Sweetheart Queen.

Tri Sig members entertain their prospective sisters both formally and informally during Rush Week (top and bottom).

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The National Service project for the women of Sigma Sigma Sigma was an effort to raise money for children with polio by selling stationery and shining shoes. The Tri Sigmas also participated in the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon for retarded children.

With girls in cheerleading, intramurals and various honorary and professional organizations the sorority still had time to accumulate a grade point average of 3.28, enough to win and retire the Scholarship Trophy. Tri Sigma Kathy McGovern was named one of the Outstanding Senior Women.

Amber Graver was chosen Sigma Chi Sweetheart, and Delta Sigma Phi Sweetheart was Vickie Cooper. Along with these social victories, Miss Fort Hays State was Tri Sigma's Karen Steen. The first runner up was Donna Blakely, another Sigma. The women also sponsored candidates for Best Dressed Coed, Homecoming and Furlough Queens.

Sigma Tau Gamma

A stationary "Bike Ride for Cancer" of over 621 miles was staged this year by Sigma Tau Gamma in an effort to raise money for the local Cancer Drive. The men also put forth a great deal of effort in collecting donations for the United Fund Drive in March.

For their physical activities, the men looked toward two "All Star" wrestling matches, the Rodeo and Furlough. The Sig Taus were proclaimed winners of the Volkswagen Rush, and their candidate, Annette Sulzman, was crowned Furlough Queen.

Socially, the fraternity held several informal parties, and participated in intra-Greek and campus activities. Their last social function was the White Rose Formal, held at the end of April.

Back for another try at entertaining the basketball audience during half time, the Teke version of the Tiger Debs have a small music and costume problem (opposite). Furlough racers speed around one of the less tricky turns in the race (below).

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Whether concentrating on campus or social activities, intramurals, public service or scholarship, the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon displayed initiative and hard work throughout the year.

The Tekes began the year by combining with the Delta Zeta sorority to win both the Best Animation and the Sweepstakes Awards in the FHS Homecoming parade. In addition, the men constructed a stone post fence around their two houses on Eighth Street, and made repairs on their buildings.

The Homecoming Formal and the Red Carnation Ball, along with two informals highlighted the social year.

As usual, public service was the fraternity's main objective. In October, the TKE men sponsored a benefit jazz concert in Sheridan Coliseum with the proceeds going to the Friendship Home for wayward children. Members also built a fence around the Day Care Center at Agnew Hall.

During the spring semester, the Tekes initiated a Big Brother program in which they planned week-end activities with fatherless children in the Hays area. In April, working with the women of Sigma Sigma Sigma, the Tekes helped sponsor and coordinate the March of Dimes Walk-a-Thon, which netted $7,000 for research.

Playing

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS — Annette Sulzman, Cheryl Yoxall, Deborah Nottingham, head cheerleader; Leann Muirhead, June Cook, Beverly Kelman (left). Also providing Tiger pep throughout the season was Stephanie Channell, cheerleader mascot (above).

And when the season was gone . . .

. . . Tiger fans realized that it had been just like all the other "next years" they had waited for . . . almost.

A convincing opening victory against Missouri Southern, 37-3, provided Tiger fans with optimism for the 1971 season. Fort Hays State was impressive with an accumulation of 452 yards. Mike Sobba, place kicking specialist, booted a record breaking 44-yard field goal. The offense and defense had their "heyday" before the seasonal drought began.

The next Saturday proved a "Tiger hunt" when Northwestern Oklahoma rolled over Fort Hays State, 40-7. Linebacker Dennis Kress scored the only Tiger touchdown which gave FHS the lead — a brief moment of authority before succumbing to the raving comeback of the Rangers.

Fort Hays State's home opener against Kearney State ended with a convincing Antelope victory, 40-21. The Tiger defense could never shackle Kearney's offense which ran for 307 yards. Tiger tallies came in the final quarter, but could not overcome the game deficit.

In spite of ineffectual comebacks, Coach Stomgren maintained a pleasant outlook throughout the season (upper left). Reserve quarterback Bruce Hawley, replacing injured Jonathan Douglas, participated in the final five games, established four school records and displayed his agile reactions to both spectators and opposing defenders (center). Return specialist Dannie Gardner rolls out, seeking running room against the challenging onslaught of tacklers (lower right).

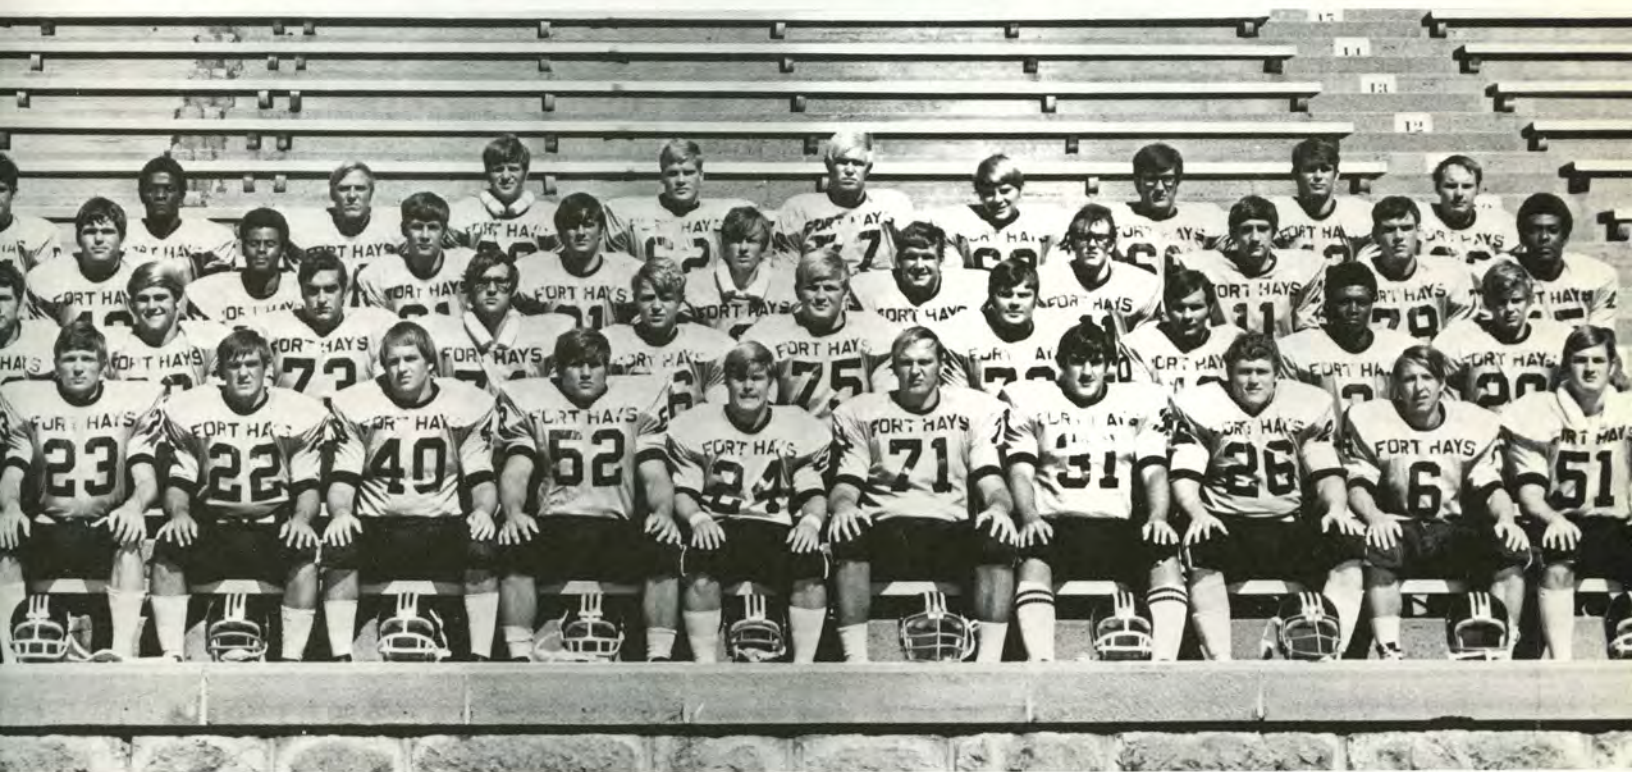

The many sights and sounds of victory came too infrequently during the long, trying season — the thunderous cannonade over the gridiron; touchdown indications of referee's upstretched hands; or fullback Dave Wassenburg's advancement toward long yardage.

However, defending RMAC Champs Pittsburg State, found the Tigers spatting for victory but battling to a 14-14 tie. Fort Hays State relied almost solely on a running game with fluctuating Tiger leads and Pittsburg comebacks. Scoring opportunities were lost in the final period by both teams, insuring the deadlock.

Against Washburn University, the Tigers were decidedly stymied by their own errors. Ichabod domination of the second half provided the incentive for victory which found FHS trailing in scoreboard figures, 34-10.

Homecoming, when despite celebrations and the spectacle of a Tiger parade, an inspired Emporia State team downed Fort Hays, 23-21. The Tigers squandered the lead in the third period when the Hornets scored all their points, upsetting the Bengals Homecoming and victory. Next stop — Omaha . . .

. . . where time ran out for the Tigers with the ball on UNO's one-yard line and the final gun sounding defeat, 27-21. Fort Hays State had come from behind to knot the game at 21-21, which was quickly "unknotted" by Omaha, thus keeping a UNO advantage with their defense digging in to hold FHS on the threshold of another comeback.

Linebacker Tom Spicer arrests the offensive assault of Emporia fullback Walter Finger as Homecoming activities continue (upper left). Testing the defense, fullback Ken Zeigler attempts to solicit yardage from covetous Aggie tacklers (lower left). Emphatic school spirit fills the air supporting the team in victory, comeback attempts, or losses (upper right). Adverse weather, a muddy field and hostile Indians didn't prevent victory against Southern (lower right).

But victory was again felt by the Tigers, along with mud and cold, as FHS defeated Southern Colorado, 10-7. Both teams fumbled numerous times due to field conditions; moreover, each team's ground attack was virtually stopped. Southern Colorado tried a final quarter comeback, scoring their only TD, but FHS' defense held the Indians from the goal posts, thus securing the three-point victory.

The last home appearance for Fort Hays State found Panhandle State edging out the Tigers, 36-35. Comeback attempts by FHS, once down by 20 points, provided brief leads which seesawed throughout the second half. The Aggies rebounded quickly in their final drive to kick a field goal, giving them the necessary edge.

Ending the season, Fort Hays State faced RMAC Champs — Northern Colorado, who gunned down the Tigers, 42-21. The Bears dominated the game on running gains, ending the Tiger season at 2-7-1, placing them fifth in the Plains Division.

So another "next year" has come and gone . . . silence prevails over Lewis Field which once echoed clashing grid-iron combats or roars for scores from emphatic Tiger fans and chilly-crisp, spot-lit nights filled with fluttering rolls of Charmin — gone with the passing of another season. Perhaps "next year" . . .

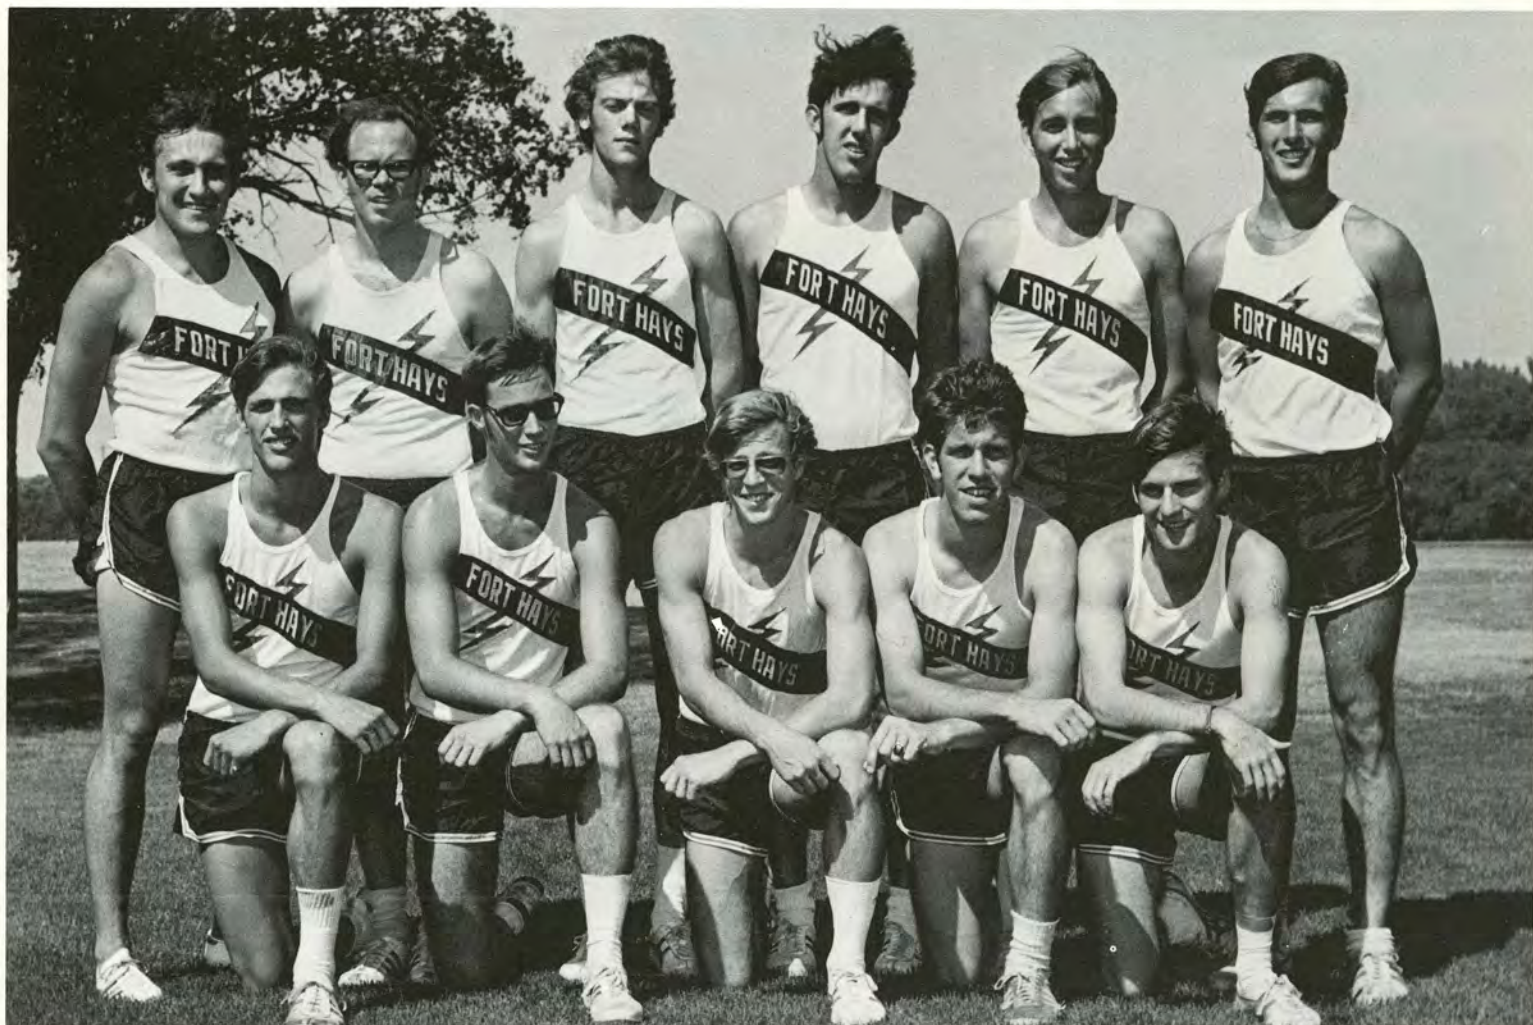

Tigers toppled from RMAC domination

Distance men's levies include self-discipline and training, which combine competitive individual efforts, overcoming weaknesses and catching second winds. These singleton tasks formulate a team which is often apart from other varsity glamour — marching bands, thundering cannons, cheerleaders' yells or shrilling crowds.

However, preseason expectations were encumbered as 1972 found the upsetting of Fort Hays State's cross country domination. Paced by Tom Bradrick, All-America recipient, the Tiger harriers captured five first-place finishes along with three second-place marks. But the team failed by one point to collar first place in the RMAC conference, breaking eight consecutive years of title control. The NAIA championships found the team placing tenth, ending the season.

Tigers finish 13-11 season, place fourth in RMAC

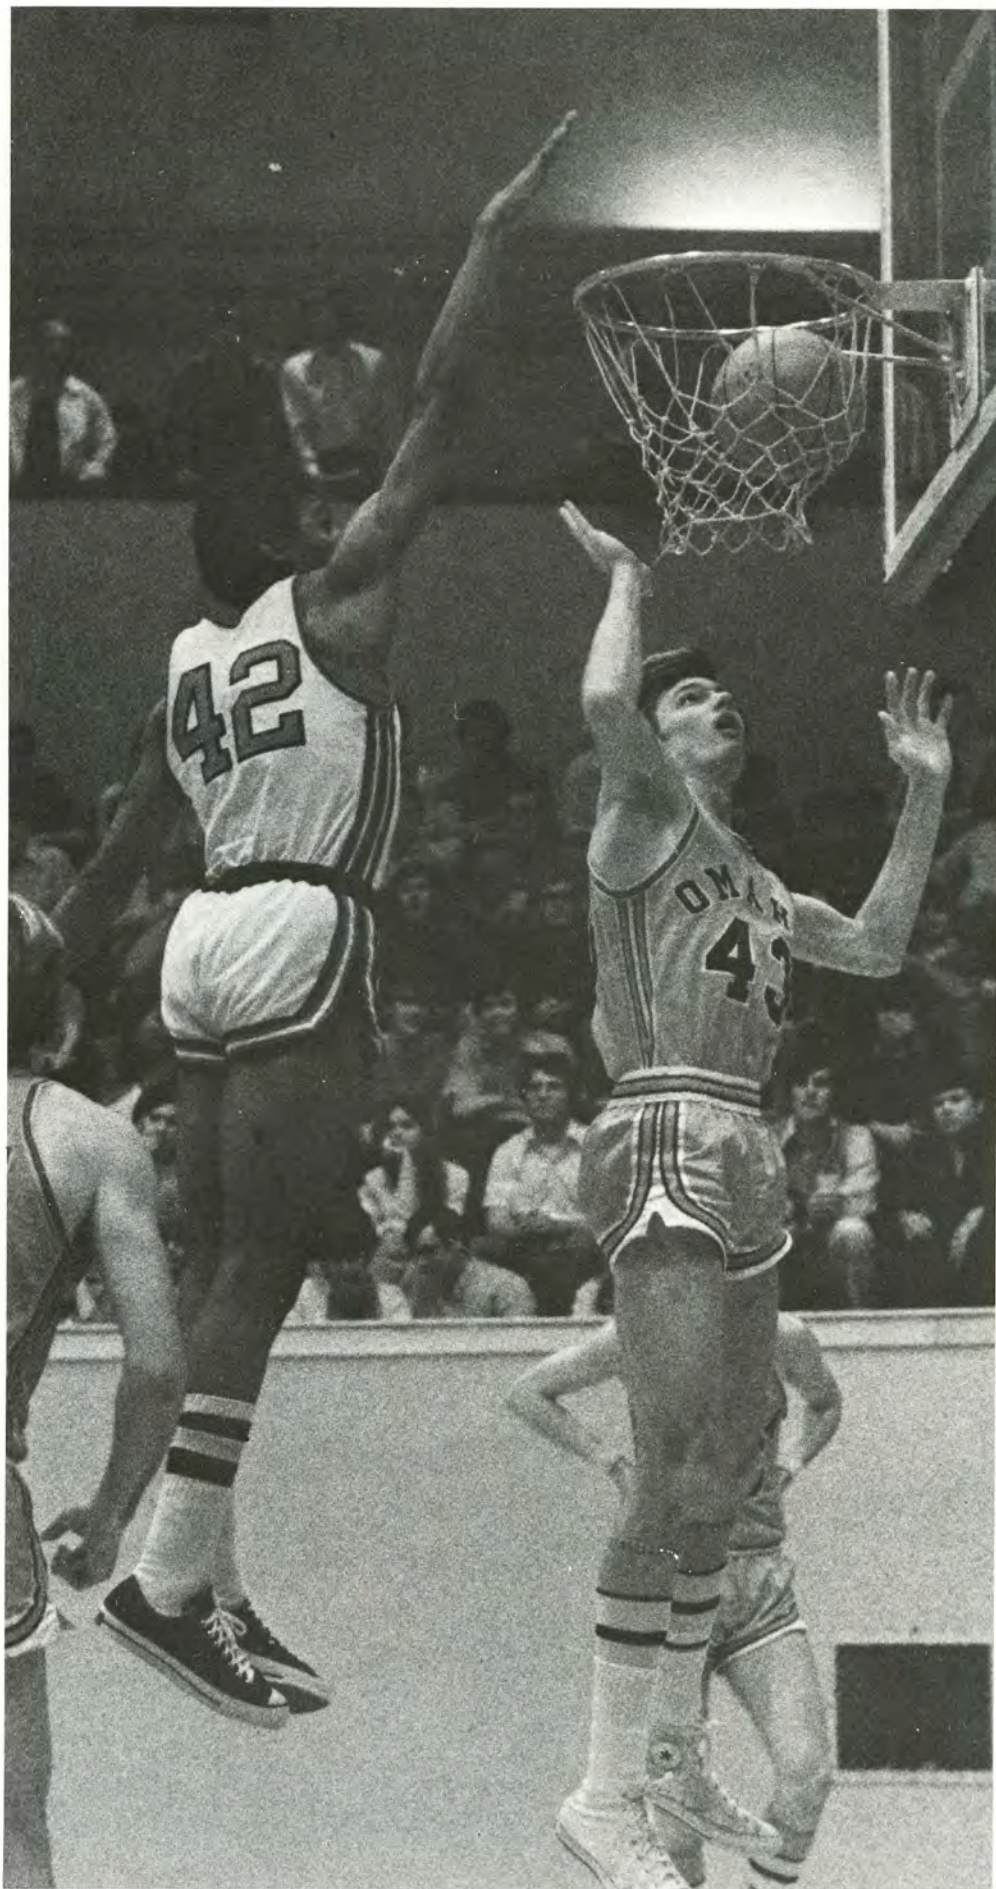

High hopes . . . generous alumni . . . inconsistency . . . disappointments . . . but a winning season highlighted Fort Hays State's basketball action during 1971-72. The Bengals tied Washburn University for fourth place in the RMAC and finished the season 13-11 and with a 6-6 conference record.

Consistency . . . the key to victorious basketball seasons or comeback conference triumphs was lacking during the initial varsity season. Early games exemplified inconsistency as the Tigers battled opponents in action-thrilled contests but split the opening twelve games, 6-6.

During semester break, ten varsity members along with Head Coach Chuck Brehm and assistant coach Bud Moeckel traveled to Phoenix, Ariz. to compete in the Grand Canyon Invitational Tournament. Due to the critical financial outlook at FHS, help was required from Phoenix area alumni in order to make the trip possible.

The Bengals emerged as second place winners of the tournament. "However, it was a great experience for everyone," remarked coach Chuck Brehm. "The kids really enjoyed themselves and without the support and generosity of the alums, we never would have been able to make the trip."

The concluding games of '71-'72 found the Tigers bouncing back somewhat from the opening dead-locked season. FHS's varsity wrapped together a winning margin of 7-5 out of the remaining matches while running a six-game winning streak out of seven straight games . . .

Netting two points against a bewildered Omaha player, Barton Snow displays his agile talents both to seasonal opponents and watching fans (opposite). Leading Tiger scorer, Dave Okeson completes an easy lay-up against Hastings College defenders during a fast break (top). Head Coach Chuck Brehm explains game strategy during a brief timeout while leading the Bengals for his seventh season (left).

... During this winning streak, the Bengals lost to Southern Colorado State even though they fought heartbreakingly against the 1971-72 champions. See-saw action along with close scoreboard contact found SCSC maintaining a slight lead but relinquishing their lead by half time, 39-34.

However, the Indians wasted no time in regaining second half control and led at one point, 56-47. The Bengals then clawed back and tied the game at 73-all. More action and an Indian jump-shot ended FHS's heroic effort, 77-75.

While traveling to another Southern Colorado State meeting, the Tiger's bus collided with an oilfield truck on the way to Pueblo, Colo. No one was injured and the trip was continued only to end in defeat for the Tigers, 76-57.

Perhaps the key game of the season was a heartbreaking loss, 76-75, against Emporia State which deflated all Tiger hopes for a NAIA District 10 playoff berth.

Tiger Cubs Acquire Experience During 7-4 Season

Learning . . . acquiring experience . . . compiling a winning 7-4 record summarizes the year for the future Tiger varsity.

The Tiger Cubs found the season a formidable challenge as they battled five junior colleges and six RMAC junior varsity teams. Beginning with a two-game winning streak, FHS's junior varsity easily defeated Cloud County Community Junior College, 72-57 and Kearney State, 93-80.

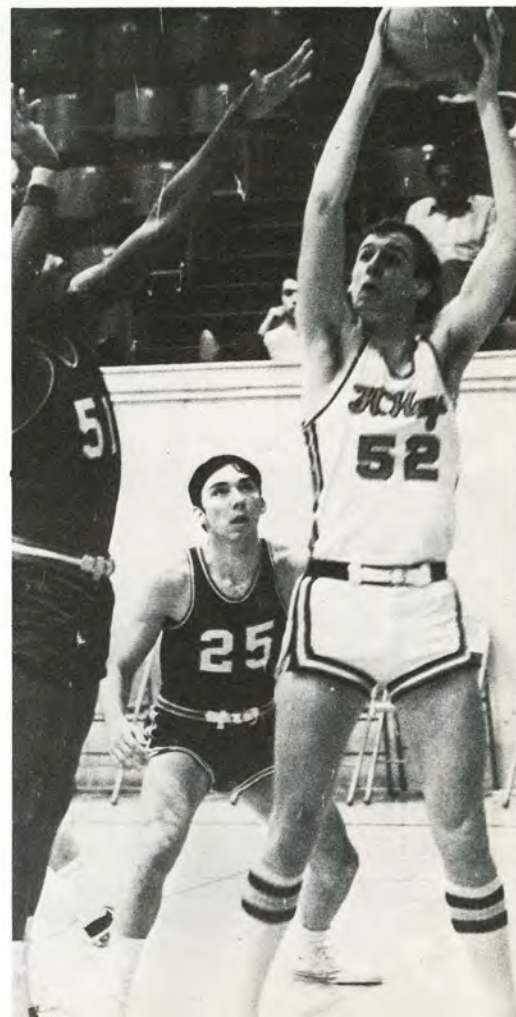

Colby Community Junior College handed the Tiger Cubs their first defeat, 57-75, before FHS netted a win against Emporia State, 75-66. Losing in overtime action, FHS was edged by Washburn University JV's, 69-71, but found Kearney State again an easy win 87-75. Pratt Community Junior College gave FHS another overtime loss, 75-79, while Washburn's junior Ichabods easily handled the Tiger Cubs, 62-72.

Tiger JV's put together a three-game winning streak to close the season as they defeated Colby Juco, 77-76, Emporia State, 77-56, and Cloud County 93-88.

Leading Tiger Cub scorer was Greg Standish who averaged 12.0 points per game while Dave Wessling ranked second with a 10.5 average. Bob Bartkoski, graduate assistant coach, coached the Tiger Cubs for his second straight season.

Gymnasts record successful season

Young squad . . . high prospects . . . stiff Colorado competition, invigorated Fort Hays State's gymnastic team during their 8-2 seasonal performance.

Beginning the season, Tiger gymnasts won against South Dakota University by capturing all first places and continued their winning routines twice against Central Missouri.

Seasonal best performance was garnered against SDU and North Texas State when the Tigers totaled 146.8 points. But the winning streak ended abruptly when FHS met Colorado competitors. During this meet Tiger gymnasts experienced troubles which found them falling off side horse routines. The last dual meet found FHS winning against NTS.

Four gymnasts (Hector Aponte, Johnny Sanders, Frank Gray and Bobby Allen) competed in the NAIA Nationals but to little avail. Aponte and Allen were the only ones placing and tied for 7th place in long horse vaulting. Hector Aponte also led the Tiger scoring for his second straight year with 311.3 total points.

Wrestlers experience disqualification, losing season

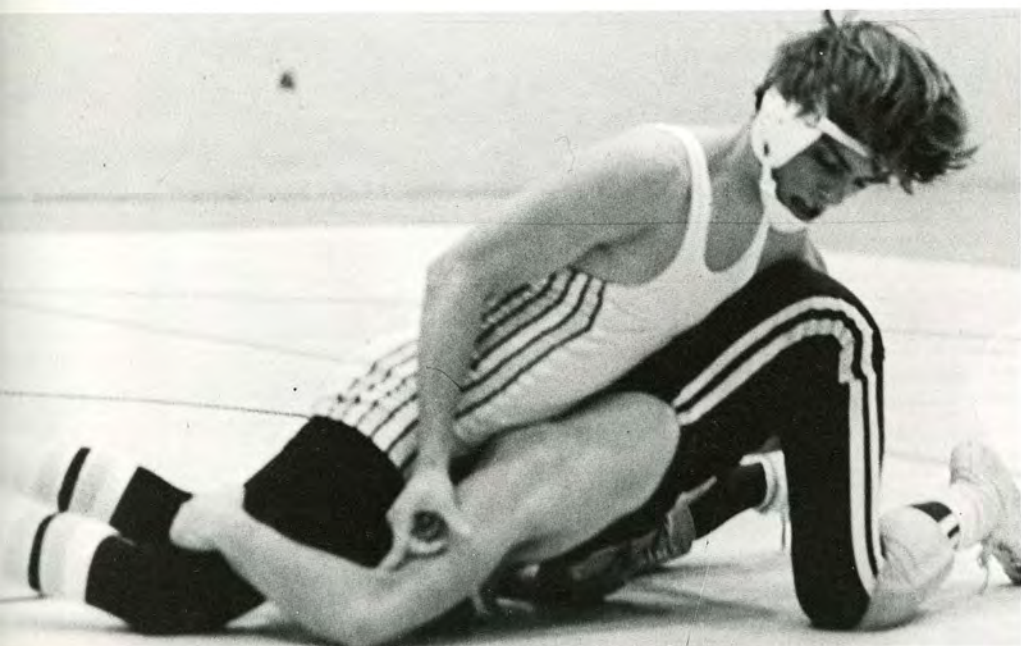

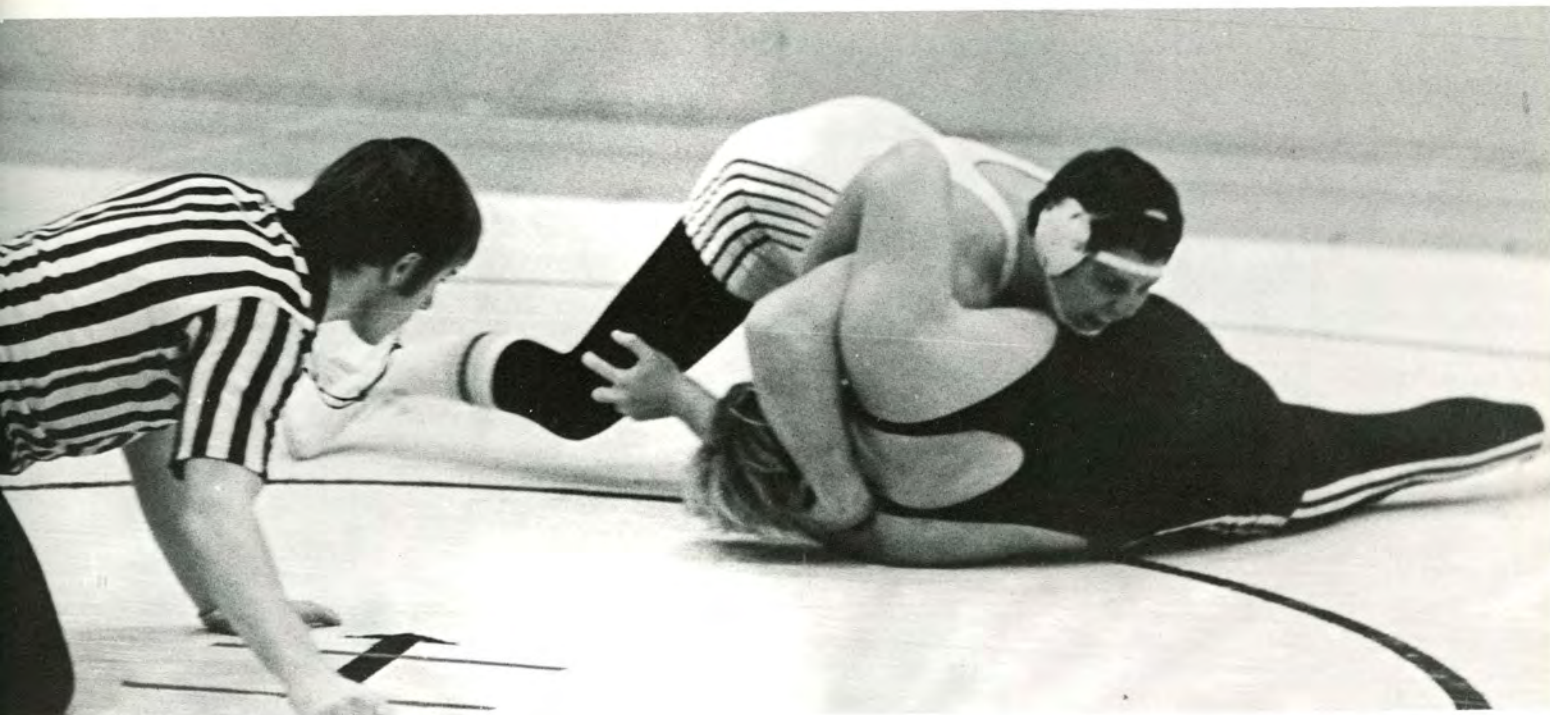

Encouraging prospects . . . tough competition . . . post-season disqualification . . . losing season . . . were keynotes for the Tiger wrestling team as they compiled a 3-8 dual-meet season.

Tough competition included two Big Eight schools and resilient RMAC teams which grappled past Tiger challengers. Victories came during the season against Wyoming University (junior varsity), Kearney State and Emporia State College.

First year coach Jack Ramey lost several wrestlers due to injury or ineligibility and was unable to successfully fill the gaps with new recruits. Because one grappler competed while ineligible during the season, the Tigers were disqualified for final post-season competition.

Two fourth place finishes by Bill Gillett and Ralph Hejny helped the Tigers place seventh in the RMAC Tournament. The Bengals also finished seventh at the U.S. Air Force Invitational with second place finishes at Chadron, Neb. and Emporia State College meets. J. D. Armstrong held the best individual record with 8-2 while Hejny compiled a 7-9 season.

Tiger thin clads have winning season

Beginning the track season, FHS's two-mile relay team gained All-American honors in the NAIA Indoor Track and Field Meet. The Tiger squad placed third in the event with a time of 7:56 while the over-all standings ranked the harriers fifteenth with 13 points.

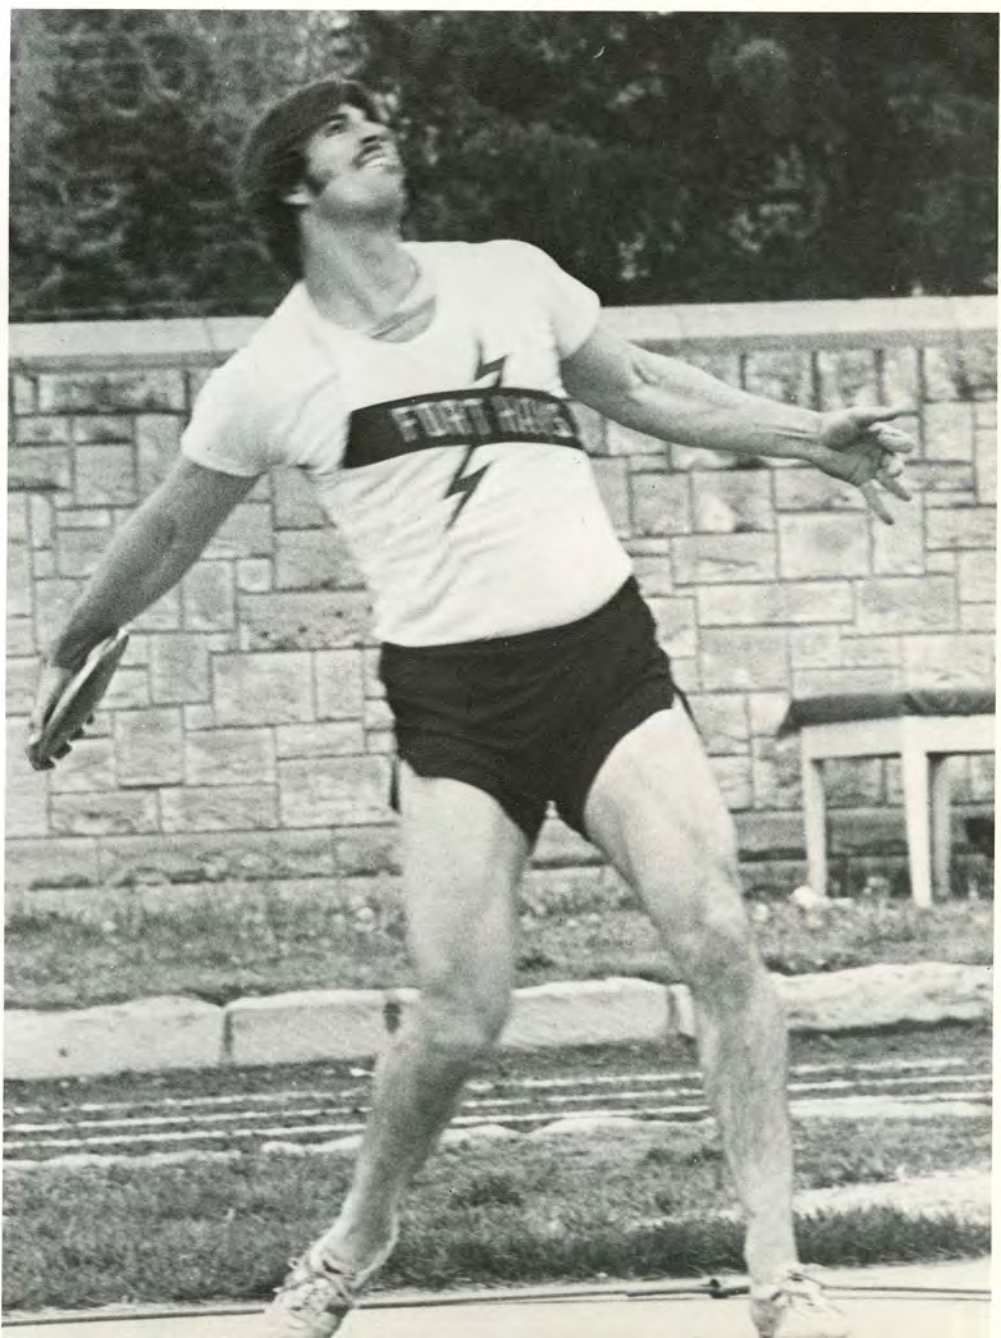

First place was posted by the tracksters for their first indoor victory, 74-40 against Kearney State in dual-meet action. Seven top individual performances and three relay first places boosted FHS's tallies.

Another first spot was captured during the RMAC Invitational in which two field house records were set by FHS's two-mile and distance medley relay squads. Alvin Penka also set a meet record in the two-mile run with a time of 9:19.

The KU Invitational found the Tigers with 47 unofficial points. Keying FHS's events were firsts by Dennis Kozub in the 600-yard run and Jon Nelson in the 1000-yard run.

Outdoor competition found the Tiger thin clads garnering six individual first spots and two top relay finishes in capturing their first outdoor dual meet over Emporia State. Two firsts were claimed by speedster Mike Shaw in the 100-yard dash and 440-yard intermediate hurdles. FHS only gained 23 points in field events but outscored the Hornets in running, 62-20.

FHS then traveled to Austin, Texas for the Texas Relays and won two third finishes in the two-mile and distance medley relays and a fifth spot in the mile relay. Next stop for the Tigers — the Emporia Relays . . . where the track men paced another first place finish as FHS gained top finishes in the mile and two-mile relays with another first claimed by Jim Birnbaum in the steeplechase.

Home dual action saw FHS dominating Lewis Field track action as the Tigers outscored Kearney State, 110-35. FHS's finishes of 1-2-3 were noted in the javelin, high jump, 440-yard intermediate hurdles and three-mile run. During the three-mile run, Tiger distance men Jim Birnbaum, Alvin Penka and Ron Lawrenz came in deadlocked for their finishes. Two first places for the day were garnered by Dennis Kozub and Greg Shearmire.

The KU Relays provided a second place finish for the distance medley relay team with fifth spots noted in the mile and two-mile relay events. Traveling to the Drake Relays, the distance medley squad posted the second fastest time (9:49.7) in this event in FHS track history for a third place finish. A fifth finish was claimed in the two-mile relay.

Other team members, who didn't travel to Iowa, captured fourth place with 48 points in the Southern Colorado Invitational. FHS took four firsts and established one meet record when Alvin Penka won the three-mile run in 14:39.7. J. D. Armstrong gained two firsts in the shot put and discus to aid FHS's point total.

Other meets slated for FHS include the RMAC Plains Division Meet, RMAC Championships, Missouri Valley AAU and NAIA.

Golfers putt through inexperience

Tournaments . . . road trips . . . inexperienced linksters . . . exceptional season . . . oriented Fort Hays State's golf team into effective "green" competition.

Carroll Beardslee, coaching his fifth golf season, worked with an inexperienced team of only three lettermen and eight newcomers. Initiating the "green" action, FHS opened the '72 schedule at Missouri Southern . . . where the Tigers placed 10th with a two-day team score of 637. However, the golfsters posted first place during the Marymount College Tournament. Tiger Dick Ahlberg won medalist honors with his 71 score while the Tiger's winning team total was 309.

Rain canceled FHS's only home tournament. But the Tiger golf team concluded their tournament schedule by edging out second spot by one stroke at the KSTC, KSC and FHS Triangular Meet at Emporia State. Terry Merrifield won medalist honors with his 72 score.

John Pekarek led the Tigers with a 74.5 tournament average in the concluding two tournaments while Dick Ahlberg filled second spot with a 75.5 average.

Remaining meets of the season include the NAIA District 10, RMAC and NAIA National Golf Tournaments.

Baseball squad records most wins ever

Twelve veterans return . . . strong defense . . . successful tournament action . . . "Diamond Darlings" . . . winning season . . . paced Fort Hays State's baseball team into their most successful seasonal performance.

Spring break marked the beginning of the Tiger's 44-game baseball season with a 'Texas Spring Swing' involving 11 games and an invitational tournament.

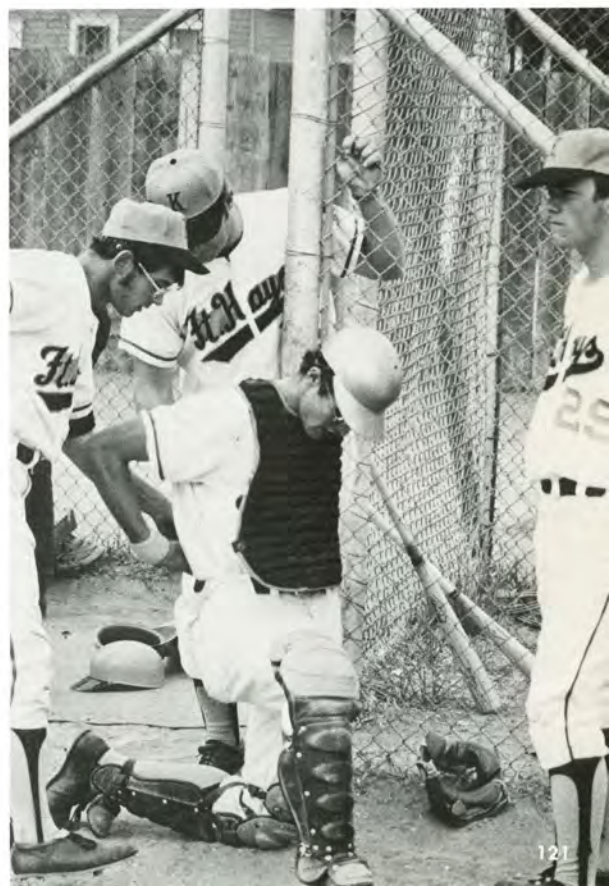

Impressive wins were made over Texas Wesleyan University, the University of Texas at Arlington and traditional rival, Emporia State during the Texas Wesleyan Invitational Tournament. Concluding tournament action, FHS battled TWU for the championship and won following fifth inning action which brought in two Tiger scores and edged out TWU, 4-3. Returning to Hays, FHS sported an 8-3 record going into their regular season.

Concluding March baseball performances, FHS split games with Sterling College, Washburn University and Augburg College (Minn.). However, double-header victories were noted against the College of St. Thomas (Minn.) and Yankton College (S. D.) with another single win over St. Thomas which boosted the Tiger's record to 16-6 going into April.

The "Diamond Darlings" were an added attraction at home games this season. The fifty coed enthusiasts acted as hostesses and distributed programs while highlighting Larks Park games.

April action saw two straight double-header wins over Yankton College and Kearney State before the Tigers split games with Emporia State. Bethany College fell prey twice to FHS during another two games while rain cancelled another match with Emporia State.

Closing April's double-headers were twin victories over Kansas Wesleyan University and St. Mary of the Plains College. Other matches with Bethany and St. Mary of the Plains College were rained out.

Leading the Tiger's hitters going into May were Troy Rampy and Ron Suppes with a .330 batting average. Other regulars over .300 were Pat James — .325, Frank Leo — .319, Ron Ruder — .303 and Dennis Considine — .302. Suppes led the squad in home runs with five and was followed by Rich Maier with four. Maier also headed Tiger RBI's with 23.

Brian Bates led the pitching staff with an earned run average of .085 while Vic Perri held the best won-lost record with eight wins, followed by hurler Mike Hannafin with a 6-0 record.

Other game action included double-headers with Sterling College and Kearney State, RMAC Area Tournament and Championship Playoffs and NAIA Playoffs.

Intramurals offer athletics to Greek, GDI, dorm leagues

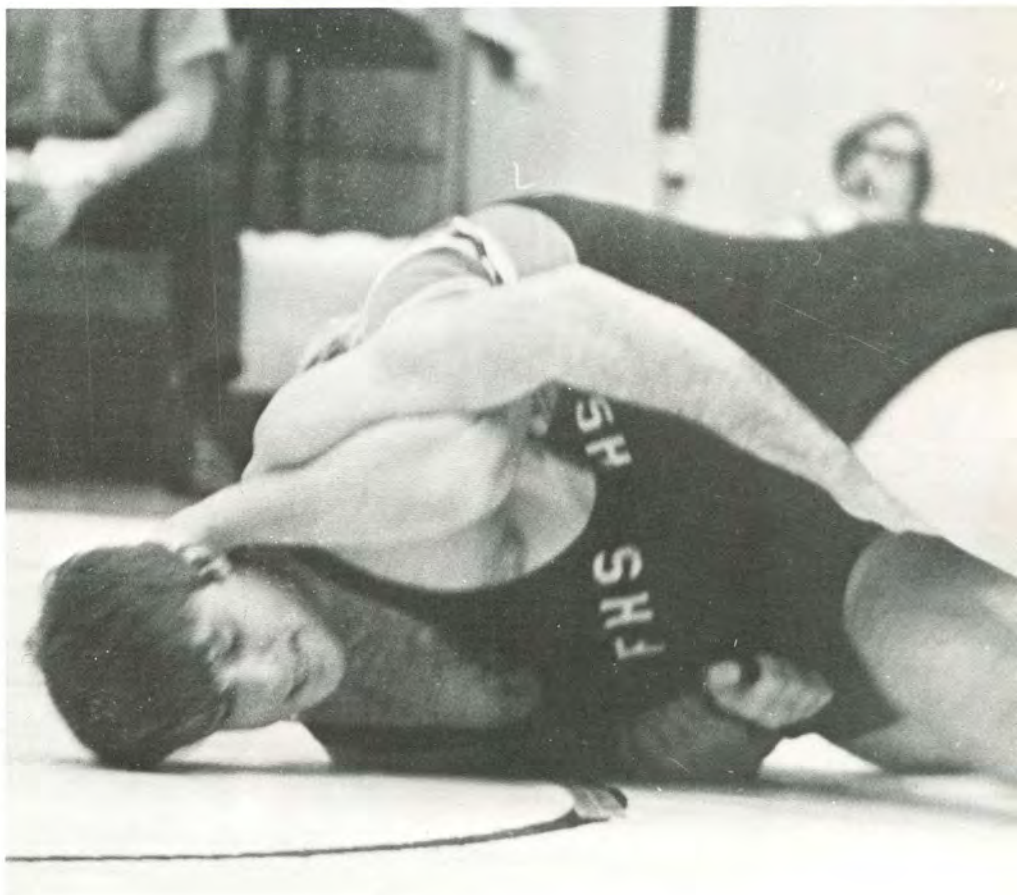

An expanding and varied intramural athletic program, headed by intramural director Wayne McConnell, provided the impetus for FHS's intramural participants.

Basketball continued as the most popular sport involving 82 teams and 846 players. Softball ranked second with 36 teams involving 515 players and volleyball placed third in popularity with 36 teams and 383 members.

All-school championship honors for individual singles sports went to Bob Minneman in horseshoes, Farrell McAtte in golf, Gaylord Johnson in tennis and Tom Wolf in table tennis. Doubles honors were taken by Ron Irby and Vic Daubert in horseshoes, Jim Akers and Dennis Speier in golf, Bob Hellerud and Phil Helman in tennis and Dave Carroll and Gregg Anderson in table tennis doubles.

In team competition, the Nutcrackers, representing the Independents, downed the Greek champs, Delta Sigma Phi, in the all-school football playoffs, 19-18, in overtime. The Cool Heads won first in wrestling competition with 76 points while Sigma Chi splashed to first in the fall semester swimming meet.

Spring intramurals . . .

. . . were marked by final basketball game competition, with Delta Sigma Phi emerging as new school champions in the Greek League. The "Red Coat Raiders" won the Independent title while "T.B.N.L." mastered the top spot in the residence hall division. However, the basketball all-star game found the Independent all-stars defeating the Greek all-stars, 72-69, in action held in the white barn.

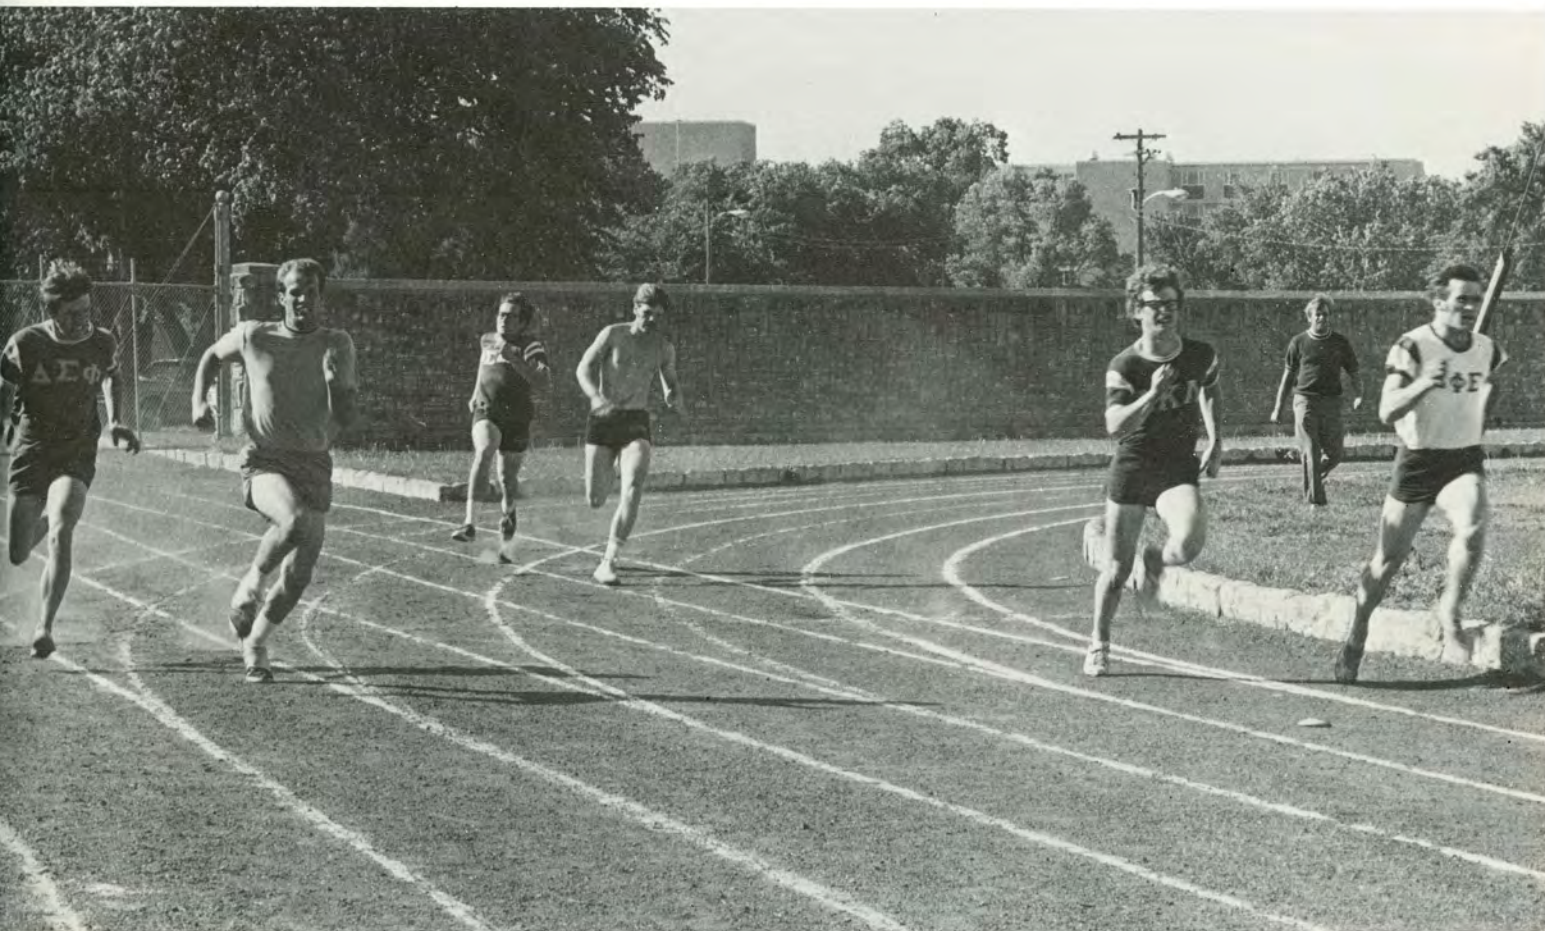

Jim Manée and Dave Okeson won all-school double honors in badminton during spring competition while Greek champ Johnnie Russell achieved singles honors.

Sigma Phi Epsilon downed the Independent "Aces," 15-5 and 15-6 in the all-school volleyball game and continued their mastery in bowling action with a 7-0 record and a 165 game average. Sig Ep bowler Tom Wolf also won singles honors with a 182 average.

Intramural softball action found the Independent "Loners" defeating "Big Daddy's Rockets," 7-2 for the all-school championship. And another Independent team, the "Bears," captured the all-school championship in the annual track meet. One meet record was set in the 440-yard run by Tom Giesle with a time of 56.5

Sig Ep men won the intramural fraternity title with 1,157 points for the year and Delta Sig placed second with 944½.

Tigers net 4-8-2 during court action

Young team . . . new talent . . . tough season . . . highlighted the year for Fort Hays State's tennis squad who came up with a 4-8-2 season record.

Second year tennis coach Bud Moeckel conducted a building year with only four lettermen returning to face a tough schedule of nine dual and three triangular meets.

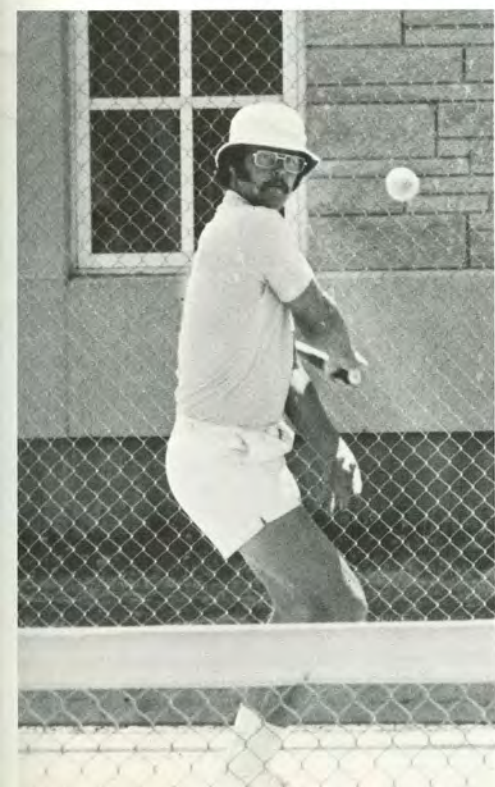

Wayne Reiger played the number one position while Wayne Copeland and Dave Hewett shared the second Tiger spot. Reiger and Hewett combined to lead the doubles competition.

Tiger netters opened their season by placing last in the Bethany College triangular meet. Their only win in this meet was scored by the doubles team of Chris Rorabaugh and Mike Pellant. Following this opener FHS was shutout 7-0 at Kearney State and 12-0 at Emporia State.

April found the Tigers tying with South Dakota State but losing their home triangular meet. They shutout Kansas Wesleyan, 7-0, and won against Sterling College. A dual action meet with Northwestern Oklahoma State ended in a tie and another home triangular meet found FHS netted.

Two wins against Bethel College and Kansas Wesleyan left the Tigers with a dual match against Bethel College and the RMAC championships to conclude the season.

FORT HAYS KANSAS STATE COLLEGE

HAYS, KANSAS 67601

December 14, 1971

Dear Fort Hays Stater:

As you know, the six state-assisted colleges and universities are facing a severe financial crisis. We need your help in restoring funds to our college for it to operate successfully.

Recently, budget hearings for Fiscal Year 1973 were held. Despite the Board of Regent's request for approximately 10 percent increases for each of the three state-assisted colleges, the state Budget Director, James Bibb, reduced the requested increases to a token 2.5 percent. Inflation amounts to six percent a year in Western Kansas, resulting in an effective 3.5 percent decrease in available funds. On top of this, no one got an increase for the 1971-72 year.

Each of the six state-assisted institutions is facing a similar set of problems as a result of insufficient funds. The best faculty members are finding new jobs elsewhere; classrooms are becoming crowded; laboratories are deteriorating; library hours and services are being curtailed; and funds for travel purposes have been cut off. In addition, last year's inadequate budget means that any real increase in operating funds must necessarily go to make up year-old deficiencies.

At Fort Hays State, the belt has already been tightened considerably. Out-of-state travel has been banned. Forsyth Library has been instructed not to order any new volumes, a situation that, if continued, may result in loss of accreditation. In addition, equipment expenditures, earlier estimated at $100,000, have been stopped entirely. These measures will save approximately $170,000--enough to see us through Fiscal Year 1972. But the austere budget proposed for Fiscal Year 1973 will require still more drastic measures, while needed capital improvements, salary increases, and additional operating expenses cannot be met.

What can be done to remedy this rapidly-deteriorating situation? The Kansas Legislature meets this coming January to make the final decision regarding funds for the state-assisted colleges. They will probably follow the Governor's recommendations unless their constituents indicate a preference otherwise. You and your parents represent a large and potentially effective interest group--but only if you make your feelings known in a strong and positive manner. For the sake of your personal interest, your alma mater, and higher education in Kansas, write, call, or see personally your Kansas Legislator. Your efforts may make the difference in his vote--and in the future of Fort Hays State.

Sincerely,

David Tarrant

David Tarrant
Student Body President

Student Senate

With the threat of fund cutting to state colleges an eminent danger, the Student Senate actively participated in petitioning the State Legislature for increased funding. Through the efforts of the Senate, all students on campus received letters urging them to contact their legislator in hopes of curbing the proposed budget cuts. The final results brought about a 5% increase in the governor's recommended budget.

Concerned with student government and rights, members of the Senate participated in a campus voter registration drive and planned for an off-campus housing commission. This commission would compile a list of approved off-campus housing and would set up a graded system of informing students about conditions of the housing.

Associated Women Students

Associated Women Students, second only in membership to the student body, is comprised of all women students attending Fort Hays State.

Representatives are elected from various housing districts to serve on the AWS council. This year AWS emphasized political awareness in addition to acting as a judicial organization for FHS women.

Area colleges attended an AWS conference featuring Dr. Emily Taylor, Dean of Women at Kansas University, as guest speaker. AWS, along with Student Senate, McMindes and Agnew Halls, sponsored Fredrick Storaska, a noted authority and lecturer on the art of self-defense for women.

Recognition of the Outstanding Faculty Women and Outstanding Senior Women highlighted the annual AWS Honors Night.

Activities Board, Tiger Paws

Memorial Union Activities Board provides FHS students with a variety of entertainment. Added to their agenda this year was an all-night party and an open house each semester. The Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and Sugarloaf served as board-provided entertainment for Homecoming and the spring concert. Projects promoted during the year included children's parties, free coffee day, opening the Tiger Pause ice cream shop, printing, the Union Gap newsletter, art exhibits for the Union and sponsoring the Miss FHS and Best Dressed Coed pageants.

Tiger Paws are chosen to host and promote Union activities. Some of their host-essing activities included Union open houses, conference registrations, guided tours and the Miss FHS and Best Dressed Coed contests. An added feature of Tiger Paws duties was the President's Parfait party where each campus organization's president was honored.

Photographers

Located on the first floor of Picken Hall, the photography lab handles all photographic services on the campus of Fort Hays State. Under the direction of Lorraine Jackson, the lab provides prints for Leader and Reveille, news service and all other campus departments requesting them. One of their traditional services is that of taking queen-candidate pictures for organizations, sororities and fraternities.

During the year, four photographers assisted Mr. Jackson in carrying out these duties. Chris Shipley, not pictured, also aided the department during the fall semester.

The FHS newspaper, the State College Leader, is distributed each Wednesday to college students and faculty. Once again, the paper captured a first-class rating for news publication and editing from the Associated Collegiate Press.

This year's Leader people alternated staff positions fall and spring semesters. The ultimate aim of this revamping was to acquaint staff members with the many facets of newspaper production.

The observance of Journalism Day resulted in on-the-job experience for Leader staff members. They were held responsible for the publication of the Hays Daily News, Sunday, April 15.

Reveille Staff

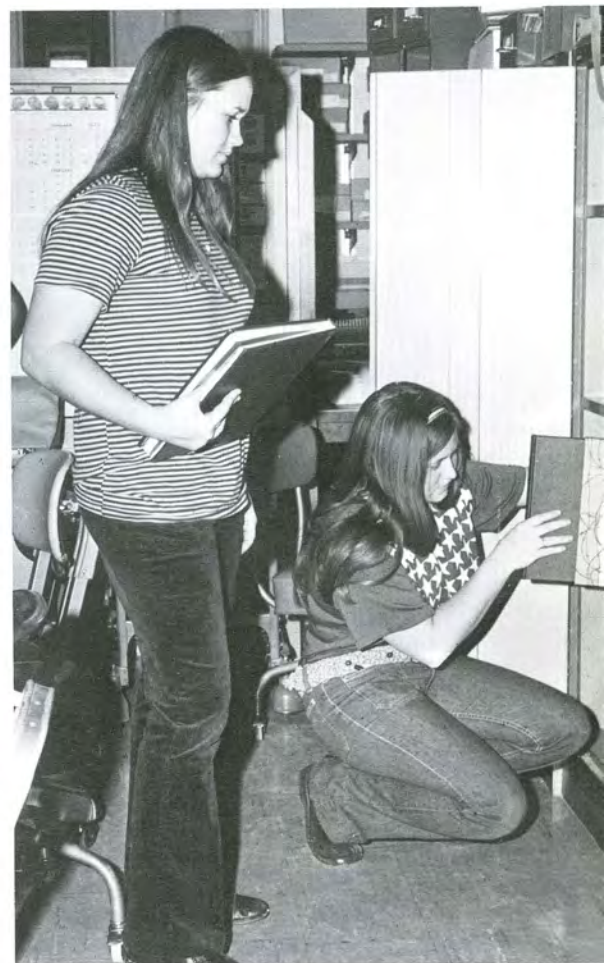

A fall trip to the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Dallas strengthened the staff's decision to maintain the Reveille's characteristic pattern of coverage. New ideas on layout and more informal shots were incorporated into the format.

Fifteen staff members greeted Reveille in the fall, but dissatisfaction and other interests decreased the staff to eleven by spring.

Headaches, frustration and a final prayer for another All-American sent the '72 Reveille off to Dallas for publication.

Radio and TV Productions

The campus radio and TV productions center offers students the opportunity to work with some of the most extensive professional broadcasting equipment in the area. Due to the tripling enrollment in production classes, two new courses encompassing campus TV operation and broadcasting internship were incorporated into the curriculum. Internship possibilities allowed students to have more practical experience through a two week study under professional supervision.

TV productions on campus had exclusive use of Hays Cable Channel 12. Programs produced by students and faculty along with various sports events were covered by the student-operated station. The TV productions office worked with the education and chemistry departments to determine the feasibility of obtaining education grants for use in taping lectures.

Campus radio, KFHS, promoted student involvement in radio announcing. Music, weather and news comprised the programming of the amateur broadcasters. An original program broadcast on KFHS presented radio as it was in the 1940's and 50's.

Charlie Osborne reads his last announcement before turning the set over to Jerry Kuhlmann while Ivan Gallion looks over the day's logs (top left). Alex Klaus and Dave Dechant find that teamwork and cooperation are indispensable elements of smooth radio announcing and programming (left). Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary membership is attained from the highest ten per cent of the senior class and the highest five per cent of the junior class. Outstanding faculty members, graduate students and alumni may also be selected on the basis of contributions to their areas since graduation. Election to this honorary is one of the highest honors a FHS student can earn.

The objectives of this honorary include recognizing scholarship, promoting advanced study and awarding a one-semester scholarship to a junior scholar. Receiving the junior scholarship award this year was Eileen Weber.

Twenty years of hard work finally earned the Women's Leadership Organization at Fort Hays acceptance into Mortar Board. Mortar Board is one of the highest ranked women's leadership organizations among American universities and colleges and is based on the service, leadership and scholarship of its women members. WLO was initiated into Mortar Board on December 4, 1971 with 16 Fort Hays members.

With cumulative grade point averages of at least 3.00, members must show an active interest in community and college work. Offering tutoring services, ushering at Artist and Lecture series, acting as campus hostesses for Parents' Day and running recruiting programs at Junior Colleges were activities performed by these campus leaders.

Establishing an information center for campus women was another project of Mortar Board. Situated in the Meadowlark Room of the Union, this center provided information on job opportunities and career fields available to women.

Seventh Cavalry

Scholarship, character and leadership are among the requirements for the members of Seventh Cavalry. These active young men have to attend FHS for one year and have a grade point average of 2.75.

Sophomore Women's Honorary

Active sophomore women exert their leadership through Sophomore Women's Honorary. Members of this honorary are initiated as freshmen and serve as active participants their sophomore year. A 3.0 grade point and a record of willingness to work are prerequisites for membership.

Community service is the role of Sophomore Women's Honorary. Members usher at Little Theatre productions, prepare favors for the nursing home and choose new girls for the following year.

Departmental Honoraries

Pi Delta Epsilon

Thirty-two high school students armed with pencils, pica poles and their imaginations competed against each other in one of the several state-wide writing contests held this year. Pi Delta Epsilon members served as hosts and guides for the area contest held at Fort Hays.

Assisting with journalism workshops and seminars and presenting speakers of interest in the field of journalism were other predominant activities of Pi Delta Epsilon.

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia

Acting as waiters at the annual "Home Town Cookin' Show" and ushering at various musical productions on campus kept members of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia active throughout the year. Performing these and other service projects in the music department were objectives pursued by the members of this national music honorary.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota is composed of women active in the field of music. Locally the members promote musical activities on campus and in the community through the selling of tickets to various campus music events and the sponsoring of a tea for music faculty, wives and patrons.

Nationally the honorary sends instruments and music overseas to needy schools just starting music departments, and recopies music in Braille and large notes for visually handicapped musicians.

Phi Alpha Theta

Working in conjunction with the History Club, members of Phi Alpha Theta actively pursued knowledge in history through various speakers and films. Helping to sponsor the showing of the film "Birth of a Nation" was a campus project of the group. A trip to the Truman Library was a final historical function planned by the honorary.

Kappa Omicron Phi

Members of Kappa Omicron Phi, national home economics honor society, emphasized the study of consumerism as their national project for the year. This study allowed local members to delve into the problems of consumer buying and protection.

The Fort Hays chapter contributed to campus scholarship funds and gave monetary assistance to the Campus Day Care Center.

Lambda Iota Tau

Compiling, editing and printing Az Lit was a biannual project of Lambda Iota Tau, literature honorary. This publication is a collection of writings authored by students and faculty at Fort Hays.

Meetings encompassed literary discussions; presentations of initiation papers by members and analytical studies in literature. Actively serving on department committees and participating in the fall workshop for high school English teachers kept members involved.

Math concepts beyond those normally confronted in the classroom are pursued by members of Kappa Mu Epsilon, math honorary. Interest in math is promoted through faculty presentations and outside speakers.

Membership in the honorary requires an overall grade point of 3.0; a 3.0 average in math and completion of thirteen hours of calculus.

Kappa Mu Epsilon ended the year with their annual spring banquet.

Pi Omega Pi

Education in business served as the function of Pi Omega Pi. Members of this honorary were required to have a 3.0 grade point in business with 15 hours in the field. New members are initiated each semester. Eight new members joined the total force of Pi Omega Pi along with three new faculty sponsors.

Monthly meetings hosted guest speakers lecturing on business education.

Epsilon Pi Tau

Epsilon Pi Tau, industrial arts honorary fraternity, was organized in 1928 by William Warrnier. The honorary is dedicated to social and professional efficiency, skill in the use of tools and research in the field of industrial arts.

Members are required to have 16 or more hours in industrial arts and a 3.0 grade point in their field.

Psi Chi

Stimulating further study and interest in psychology through speakers is the function of Psi Chi. This psychology honorary requires its members to have nine hours in the field of psychology and to be in the top 35 per cent overall.

Dr. John Cody, from the High Plains Mental Health Center, addressed the club on his paper "Beethoven Everything, Tosniger Foundation also appeared before the group at one of their monthly meetings.

Sigma Alpha Eta, speech and hearing honorary, combined efforts with Student Senate to obtain an audiometer. This hearing device was then used for free campus-wide hearing tests. In conjunction with these tests, members of Sigma Alpha Eta conducted speech screening tests.

Two conventions were on the Sigma Alpha Eta agenda this year. Members traveled to Kansas City to the Student Speech and Hearing Convention and to Chicago for the national convention.

Delta Tau Alpha

Delta Tau Alpha, agriculture honorary, was nationally recognized this year by having Basil Julian, their chapter president, chosen as the national president. Adviser Ruff Gentry also filled the position of national adviser.

With the promotion of agriculture as its main objective, Delta Tau Alpha membership requires a 2.0 grade point in agriculture and 12 hours in the field. A 1.5 overall is also a prerequisite. Members held regular meetings and participated in the judging of soil conservation posters.

Alpha Psi Omega, Little Theatre

Alpha Psi Omega, theatre honorary, and Little Theatre combined efforts to present plays. The honorary elects members as a reward for participation in plays. Little Theatre membership requires ten points which are acquired by working on productions.

Seven Little Theatre awards were given this year. Greg Abbott was named Best Actor and Barbara Laspisa, Best Actress. Best Actor and Actress in Minor Roles awards went to Phil Joseph and Pam Dreiling. Sharon Collier received Best Supporting Actress and Tomme Miller, Best Supporting Actor. Best Student Director was Ron Heape.

Theatre Productions

Theatre performances this year featured drama, comedy and an original work. "Black Comedy" opened in February. Setting the scene in London, the comedy portrays the problems of an engaged young man when his ex-mistress and future father-in-law show up at the same time.

The three act drama, "The King is Dead" is an original work by Harriet Ketchum. This play encompasses the turmoil and violence that followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

Finalizing the performances was Arthur Miller's "A View From the Bridge." Commenting on the universal weaknesses of man and how they plague him, the plot centers on two Italian immigrants who enter the U.S. illegally with hopes of a better life.

Orchesis

A modern dance production, "The Final Fling" was premiered May 5th and 6th. Performed by Orchesis and advanced modern dance classes, the presentation featured several solo, duet, trio and group numbers. Orchesis, directed by Sally Mildbrant, presented three company numbers.

Orchesis also performed in the traditional Hawaiian Luau, the Varsity Band Show, Hays City Arts Festival and for AWS Honors Night. A lecture demonstration was also given for the Hays Business and Professional Women's Club.

Brass Choir

The Brass Choir, in its eighteenth year, was directed by its founder Dr. Leland Bartholomew. Traditionally, the choir made its fall swing through sections of Kansas to play for high schools, climaxing the trip with a concert in Hays. This year the choir performed six concerts in and around Wichita for this two-day tour. Their annual home concert was December 6th.

Jazz Ensemble

Sheridan Coliseum was the sight of the Jazz Ensemble's second annual "Home Town Cookin'" show February 29th. In a night club setting Jazz Ensemble and members of the rock ensemble, The Beast, performed numbers written by the giants of big band jazz and several rock tunes. Both ensembles premiered "Nica's Dream," an original number.

Chosen as one of eight bands to compete in the Central State College Jazz Festival, the Jazz Ensemble traveled to K-State in April. This was one of eight regional contests sponsored by the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

By special invitation the Jazz Ensemble performed at the Kansas State Music Educators Convention in Wichita. A two-day tour south and west of Hays provided area high schools the chance to hear rock and jazz performed expertly by the ensemble. Jazz ensemble also participated in the Varsity Band Show.

Woodwind, Clarinet, Recorder Ensembles

Due to a number of problems including financial difficulties the Clarinet Choir and Woodwind Ensemble were unable to participate in tours of Kansas as they have in the past. In the annual spring concert the Woodwind Ensemble, directed by Robert Brown, featured compositions from 1600 to the present played by trios and quartets. Sickness prevented the Clarinet Choir under Harold Palmer from touring and presenting concerts as planned.

Recorder Ensemble is directed by Phyllis Schleich. Membership based on ability is a prerequisite for these Madrigal Dinner performers.

String Quartet

String Orchestra

The String Orchestra and String Quartet, featuring selected members of the Orchestra, shared the stage with other musical groups in presenting both the Christmas and April concerts. These ensembles, directed by Edwin Moyers, performed in Scott City for the State Federation of Music Clubs and in Russell for high school band and orchestra members.

Symphonic Band, Civic Symphony

Symphonic Band members gave a notable performance at an invitational appearance before the Kansas Music Educators State Convention in Wichita. Donn Graham, FHS instructor in voice, soloed and the band, directed by Lyle Dilley, performed in conjunction with Dr. Eugene Rousseau, chairman of the Indiana University woodwind department. Selection for performance at this convention was based on prior judging of taped entries. The FHS band was chosen over entries from Kansas University, Kansas State and Wichita State.

Other performances during the year included a mid-winter concert in February and the annual Varsity Band Show in November.

Fort Hays Symphonic Band ended their season with an April 16th concert at which nine senior members and an alumnus were recognized. William Bolton, director of music at Kensington, received the Symphonic Band Alumni Achievement Award.

Civic Symphony, also directed by Lyle Dilley, presented their finale April 25th. This concert combined the talents of faculty and students in instrumental and vocal music. Assistant professor of music, Dr. Richard Collins was featured as piano soloist at this event.

A December concert with the Brass Choir was the final major musical presentation of 1971. Donn Graham and Alison Atkins provided the vocal entertainment for a duet from Act II, scene 1 of La Traviata as it was performed by the Civic Symphony.

Marching Band, Flag Corps

Twirlers from Southeast Kansas were given the opportunity to compete in one of the first twirling contests of its kind in this area. As sponsors of the event, the Fort Hays Marching Band and Lyle Dilley acted as hosts. Thirty-five hundred high school musicians and twirlers attended the annual Band Day.

Performing their maneuvers as the half time show at home football games, during Parents Day, and in the Homecoming parade; the Marching Tigers were active throughout the fall semester.

The Flag Corps, under the direction of Joe Yeager, was a new addition to the half time football game activities. Members of this unit were selected after auditioning. Their performances utilized precision movement and display of the American flag and school banners.

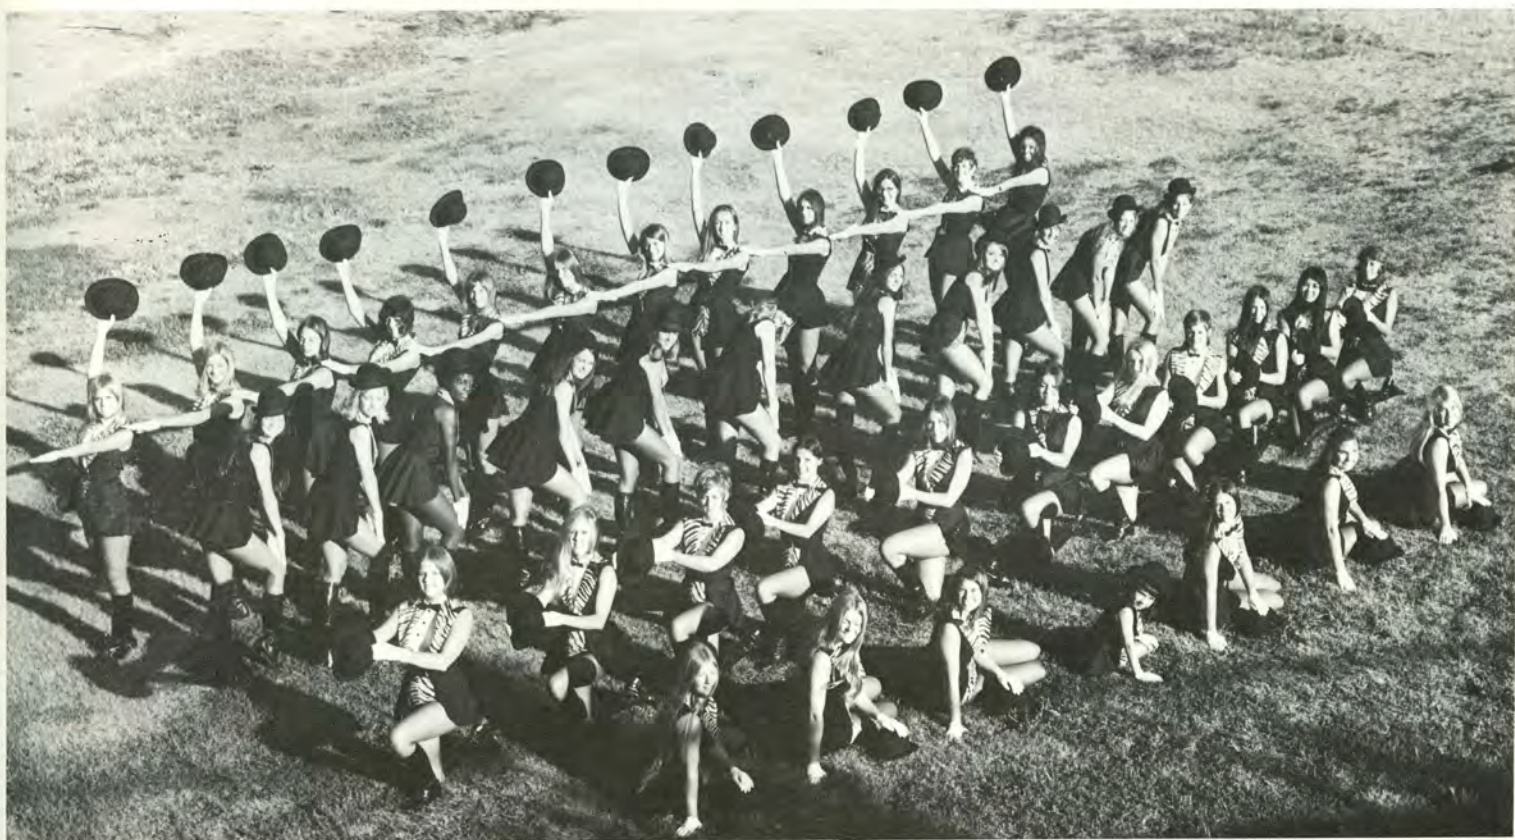

MARCHING BAND MEMBERS: Stephen Bell, Dennis Schamber, Conrad Miller, Suzanne Briand, Pam Slipke, Mike Miller, JoAnn Taylor, Michael Morris, Gene Dirks, Margaret Wherry, Glen Dirks, Jay Bowen, Cheryl Bolt, Mary Doherty, Bonnie Beisner, Colleen Gillen, Dennies Andersen, William Wolf, Weston Hardy, Ron McWilliams, Lee Mann, Charles Willis, Beverly Trumpp, Elizabeth Kirby, Paula Huser, Quilma Bliss, Kathy Johnson, Kenneth Scott, Patricia Sellers, Mark Davis, Warren Lewallen, Cathy Weidman, Paula Cole, Vincent Landau, Karen DeMoss, Stan Bock, Darrel Howell, Robert Schraeder, Carol Whisman, Mark Massaglia, Mary Adams, Rise Doud, Kenneth Vine, Douglas Palmer, Doyle Miller, Rhonda Nuckolls, Stewart Denton, Charles Ames, Boyd King, Allan Mickey, Mary Beth Norris, Michael Wiesner, Katherine Lederer, Tom Funk, Linda Carver, Mark Cooksey, Don Cutright, Steve Bankston, Alphonse Comeau, Greg Hudon, Dave Cutright, Dorothy Fagg, Keith Donley, Ron Bailey, Elaine Ellis, Stephen Hood, Vicki O'Toole, Kendall Stull, Nancy Wurm, Stephen Vincent, Carol Parks, Doug Miller, Elona Sue Herrmann, John Westmacott, Kay Kvasnicka, Deborah Scherling, Kenneth Jackson, Linda Townley, Linda Goudy, Mark Dewald, Dell Naylor, Sandra Rohr, Diane Minks, Robert Proffitt, Vickie Lodovici, Delores Bryant, Robert Schwindt, Marjorie Bock, Allen Dilley, Joseph Philip, Rex Leinberger, Max Barta, Matt Springfieldt.

Tiger Debs

Performing as a precision dance unit, the Tiger Debs, under the leadership of Leta Deines, presented shows at various athletic events. Girls participating in the 40-member team were selected from approximately two hundred applicants. Precise and colorful performances earned them an outstanding reputation.

Fort Hays Singers, Concert Choir

Fourteen Fort Hays students under the direction of Dr. Donald Stout sang their way into the hearts of many American GI's and foreign people when they participated in a USO tour of South Sea military bases. Chosen last year as one of fourteen groups asked to go on the tour, the Singers spent the fall semester preparing their show and made their public performances a preview of their planned USO show. On December 7, 1971 the Singers departed for eight weeks of traveling, touring, singing and vacationing.

Another group directed by Dr. Stout is the fifty-six member Concert Choir. A two-day singing tour of eastern Kansas and concerts both semesters kept the Choir active. The highlight performance of the Choir was the oratorio Saint Paul by Felix Mendelssohn.

Women's Glee, Collegian Chorale

Women's Glee and Collegian Chorale combined forces in presenting their annual Christmas and Spring concerts. Under the direction of Donn Graham, Women's Glee is open to all girls wishing to participate. The 60 members of Collegian Chorale, under the direction of Patrick Goesser, are chosen through auditions each semester. Both groups earn an hour credit by participating.

Highlighting the Spring Concert were popular songs sung by the Women's Glee. The Creation, a rock cantata by David Bobrowitz and Steven Porter, concluded the year's endeavor by the Collegian Chorale.

Departmental Organizations

Alpha Kappa Psi

With objectives enveloping the area of business administration, Alpha Kappa Psi sponsored activities associated with the world of business. Before the onset of the fall semester AKP members attended the national convention in Las Vegas. Field trips to various industries in and outside the state were planned and an accounting lab was held both semesters.

The AKP members were directly involved in presenting the William E. Lusk scholarship to the person chosen out of those business majors applying for the scholarship. The Lusk scholarship came from investment earnings made by the AKP Investor's Club.

History Club

In hopes of making history come to life, members of the History Club included films, speakers and trips on this year's agenda. Early in the year, Dr. Forsythe lectured on the topic of oral history, and viewing of the film, "Birth of a Nation" was slated for February.

A trip to Texas was scheduled in order to see the pageant "They came from Spain" and members hoped to visit the Truman Library in Kansas City late in the semester.

SCEC

Preparing teachers for, and promoting the work behind special education, the Student Council for Exceptional Children sought methods through which the exceptional child could be aided. The programs for the year included a talk given by two blind students attending the college and a demonstration and idea exchange concerning the areas of special education. These ideas were later made available in printed form, for members to use when teaching demanded an exceptional involvement.

Industrial Arts

Eighty-three strong, the Industrial Arts Club promoted and hosted the 13th annual Western Kansas Industrial Arts Fair. Representatives of 60 high schools and junior highs from 57 western Kansas counties competed in the fair which featured over 1,000 projects. Members of the club spent the previous semester making trophies and getting out entry forms for the event.

With the purpose of honoring their top ten students each semester, the Industrial Arts Club holds two top-ten hamburger feeds. All members are invited to help honor the chosen ten. A fall over-night trip to Wilson Lake and programs pertaining to industrial arts made an active year.

Home Ec Club

Making toys and presenting them to the Campus Day Care Center was the service project initiated and carried out by the Fort Hays Home Economics Chapter. The girls also sponsored a spaghetti supper for members and guests and held their annual spring picnic.

Speakers presented a variety of topics at the regular club meetings. Fabrics Unique, Kuhn's Jewelry and interior designer, George Steele, provided the homemakers with information vital to their profession.

Phi Beta Lambda

Retaining only four members from the previous year, Phi Beta Lambda, business organization, focused on recruiting new members. A membership picnic and football game began the year which included workdays, selling Tiger car tags and candy, field trips to nearby businesses and hosting guest lecturers. They also built a Homecoming float.

Members attended a convention in Kansas City and one in Emporia where the local chapter received several awards. The Fort Hays Phi Beta Lambda chapter retained its strong position in the state hierarchy by electing their own member, Sheryl Krier, as the State Recording Secretary for Phi Beta Lambda. Joel White, local president, had also been serving as the State President.

Sociology Club

Population control, social work and drug abuse headed topics presented at regular meetings of Sociology Club. Members were reminded of constant revisions in our society when University of Missouri speaker Ralph Dakin lectured on "Changes in Sociology." Eugene Friedmann, from the Kansas State Sociology Department, lectured on the "Role of the Family in Industrial Society."

Twelve members of Sociology Club attended the Midwest Sociological Society Convention in Kansas City. A final spring fling was a club social.

Nursing Club

Compiling a medical careers packet for student use was an innovation made by the nursing majors who comprise Nursing Club. This packet is a listing of medical careers that can be pursued at Fort Hays and was made available in the office of the nursing division.

Selling stationery, napkins and T-shirts provided the means by which members aided the local cancer fund. A donation was also made to the Miss Stroup scholarship fund which honors the former head of the nursing department. Members also participated in the bloodmobile both semesters.

Chemistry Club Society of Physics Students

A trip to Kansas City to tour the ChemAgro Corporation was one of the main activities sponsored by the Chemistry Club. Members of the club also engaged in raising money for a scholarship awarded to the outstanding junior chemistry major.

Local speakers and films were featured at the meetings. The club ended the year with a banquet honoring outstanding freshmen and senior chemistry majors.

Traveling to high schools and junior colleges to demonstrate physics principles behind lasers and polygrams was a pet project of the Society of Physics Students. Members sponsored a science fair for high school students. This function was coordinated with an open house of the science facilities in Albertson Hall.

The club published a newsletter and helped in the updating and production of the physics department's bulletin.

SCSA Geology Club

Stressing the awareness of conservation needs and practices is the object of the Fort Hays Student Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America. The college students hosted conservation lecturers and participated in a College Farm work day with the Rodeo Club. Members also held a joint meeting with the local Fort Hays Soil Conservation Chapter which encompasses five counties.

With the goal of promoting interest and achievement in the field of geology, the Sternberg Geology Club holds regular meetings featuring guest speakers from the Hays area. Lunar geology, continental drift and mammal findings on Nicaragua were some of the lecture topics presented to the club this year.

The annual club picnic May 6th ended the year for the members.

Poly Sci. Club

Political Science Club was instrumental in getting Manual Fierro to speak on campus. As Chairman of the Board of The Kansas Institute for Minority Empowerment, Mr. Fierro spoke to members and outside visitors about the problems facing minorities in Kansas. He also aired his campaign issues for the upcoming gubernatorial election.

Faced directly with the lack of state funds, Political Science Club had to delay plans for an intersession course in state government and a visit to the state governing bodies. A symposium featuring several state legislators is in the blueprint stage for next year.

Russian Club

Russian Club gained entrance to the campus scene this year after being approved and accepted by the Student Organizations Committee. With the purpose of making the field of Russian and Slavic languages more attractive members presented movies on traveling and recreation in the Soviet Union and participated in a study of Russian art.

Traveling abroad is quite a job to prepare for, and as one of its civic projects Russian Club offers aid to travelers filling out necessary forms.

A dinner in May featuring Slavic food was the highlight of the semester.

French, German, Spanish Clubs

Featuring the excitement of a pinata and entertainment characteristic of France, Germany and Spain, the members of the respective foreign language clubs combined efforts in presenting an International Christmas Party. Traditional songs, poems and decorations from the three cultures enhanced the party.

Throughout the year each of the language clubs presented programs, talks and films related to French, German and Spanish. Studies of the music and food preparation and cultural simulations acquainted members with the ways of life found in these countries.

Men's PE Club

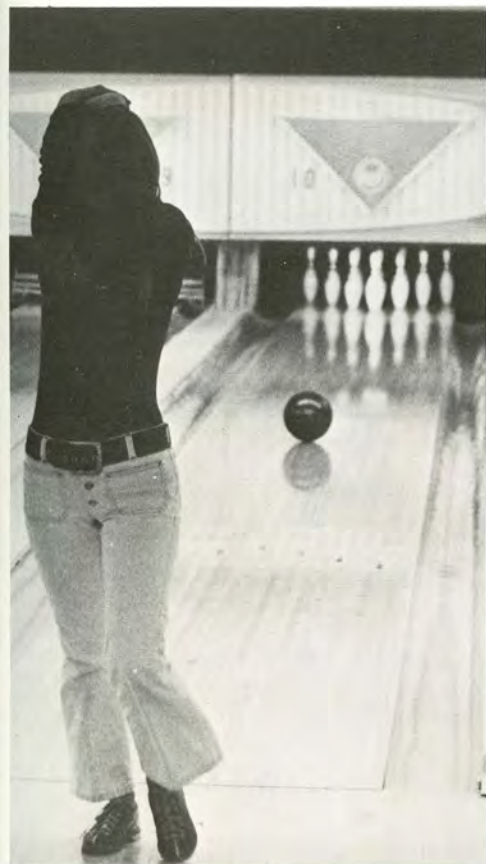

Men's Physical Education Club supported the Tiger football squad during Homecoming by entering a giant walking Tiger float in the parade and by decorating the football field.

Active men in Physical Education Club participated in the intramural games and sponsored the Pass, Dribble and Shoot contest. Attending the state HPER convention and sponsoring a watermelon feed were important events in their year. Men's P.E. Club ended the year with a banquet.

In honor of the outstanding service and guidance Glen Lojka has given to Men's P.E. Club Daryl Obermueller, president of the club, presents him with a plaque (center right). Debi Handwerk provided musical entertainment at the annual banquet (bottom center). Speaking at the Men's P.E. Women's Intramurals

Women's Intramural games are open to all women on campus wishing to participate. This year's activities include tennis, table tennis, archery, volleyball, basketball, bowling, badminton and softball.

This year's intramural winners are:

- Table Tennis Singles — Vicki Jewell
- Table Tennis Doubles — Wilma Michaelis and Judy Dugan
- Tennis Singles — Donna Rapp
- Tennis Doubles — Patti Knowles and Deb Keegan
- Archery — Cindy Bross
- Badminton Singles — Kay Dunkel
- Badminton Doubles — Cheryl Engelland and Barbara Boyd
- Volleyball — Independent team
- Basketball — McMindes
- Bowling — Delta Zeta
- Softball — Independent team

Women's Basketball, Volleyball, Softball

Women's varsity teams made a big splash this season, earning berths in all three state tournaments.

The volleyball team began the year's sports challenges. The women ended their season with a perfect record of ten league wins and three non-league successes. They then journeyed to the state tournament and placed third after suffering defeats at the hands of Wichita State and Kansas University.

Next on the sports roster was the women's basketball team. In an exciting season the team took first in the league undefeated. Their only non-league loss was to K.U. Defeated at state by Kansas State University the team took second.

The women's softball team summed up the season. In two tournaments Fort Hays topped four opponents to net first in the league. Playoffs for the state championship are scheduled, weather permitting.

Susan Bozeman distinguished herself as the Outstanding Woman Athlete.

All-Campus Organizations

Dames Club

Dames Club provides a common meeting ground for married women in college or whose husbands are in college. Coordinated activities such as scavenger hunts, Halloween parties, caroling and box suppers offer husbands and wives a chance to have fun together. Members form interest groups within the club to work on projects involving handicrafts, candlemaking and sewing.

Dames Club members actively participate in the community scene by sponsoring a civic project each semester. Giving a Christmas party for children attending the Kansas Crippled Children's Clinic at Hadley Hospital and aiding in the cancer fund drive were this year's projects.

Promoting physical fitness for the college woman is the basic goal of Women's Recreation Association. WRA sponsors intramural baseball, basketball and volleyball games, badminton and bowling for any college girl interested in participating. Women's Rec members also work with area high schools to increase interest in sports by hosting high school play days and sports days.

Club activities included a ski trip and camp out. WRA members ended the year with an annual banquet at which they announced intramural winners.

Rodeo Club

Fifteen colleges and universities attended the Seventh Annual Fort Hays Rodeo held in April. The three day event featured bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling and Brahma bull riding. The Fort Hays men's team took first place in the over-all competition and the women's team netted second place.

Rodeo Club participated in several meets throughout Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. Members of the club took an active part in maintaining the rodeo grounds by repainting the arena area.

Fort Hays Flying Tigers

By offering flight instruction at the cheapest rates possible, the Flying Tigers' objective is to inform and promote participation of college students in the world of aviation. With two licensed planes, a regular ground school, and flight instruction school the Flying Tigers are fully equipped to teach students the fundamentals of flying. Skydiving instruction is also available.

Regular monthly meetings are held by the club, at which they handle business, view films and hear speakers. This year the club heard guests speak on various areas of aviation and sponsored films put out by the Federal Aviation Association.

Soccer Club

Fort Hays Soccer Club, for the first time in its history, experienced a winning season. With games against Fort Riley, Kansas State Teachers College, Wichita, K-State, Salina and Concordia the team ended the year with a season record of 6 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties. Soccer Club also participated in the Salina Invitational Tournament.

Vernon Fall and Keith Faulkner sponsored Soccer Club and Lucho Sarmiento served as president. Membership in this club is open to any male student wishing to participate.

Alpha Phi Omega

As a service fraternity, members of Alpha Phi Omega found themselves called upon to aid various projects throughout the year.

Service projects undertaken by the fraternity were ushering at the Artists and Lectures series, aiding bloodmobile workers on campus, and helping with the distribution of the '71 Reveilles. Members also helped sponsor the Beauty and the Beast contest designed to raise money for Endowment Association scholarships, and participated in the early planning stages of the annual Furlough.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA PLEDGES: Ron Schneider, Linus Pfannenstiel, Ray Hudson, Mark Doubrava, Donald Cutright (below).

Veterans' Club

Vets' Club functions as a socially oriented group serving the purpose of informing veterans of the various benefits available to them.

Members this year sponsored the first Cheddar Cheese Eating Contest of its kind in the United States in hopes of breaking the English-held world title of four minutes and 55 seconds for eating a pound of cheddar cheese.

Other projects of the Vets' Club included serving on the Homecoming parade committee as well as aiding APO with Furlough activities. A campus coordinated cleanup campaign was slated for the future.

Rod Applegate finished the term as president after the resignation of James Knight.

Young Democrats

With the 18-year-old vote as a primary issue this year, the Collegiate Young Democrats actively encouraged young citizens to register to vote. Concentrating on the 18-21-year age group, the members gathered information regarding registration procedure, and then passed it on to others on campus.

Several of the Young Democrats attended the Countdown '72 program in Manhattan and the National Emergency Conference in Chicago. Both of these conferences were concerned with voter registration and the new voter. Members of the club were also involved with other groups in trying to get registration booths on campus.

Star Promenaders

In order to bring the spirit of "How the West Was Won" to the students of Fort Hays, the Star Promenaders Square Dance Club sponsored both a Homecoming Square Dance and a float in the parade. The Promenaders, along with the help of their talented callers, promoted an interest in square dancing outside of the classroom by sponsoring club dances twice a month.

Helping was the fifth "H" for this year's Collegiate 4-H Club. In an effort to aid local clubs, the Fort Hays group set up an Officers Training school and judged during the County 4-H Days. Other activities included helping with the clean-up of the State 4-H Ranch, operating a concession stand at the Kansas State Fair, and sponsoring a Fitting and Showing contest.

Chess Club

After sharpening fundamental moves and strategies, members of the Chess Club set out to challenge new opponents. The five member squad participated in area-wide chess tournaments during the fall semester. The club also made a new move this year when they decided to sponsor a Homecoming queen. Check mate . . .

International Student Union

Foreign and American students seeking a meeting place for promoting peace found it in the International Student Union. This organization was designed with the purpose of uniting students, especially in the area of understanding different cultures and backgrounds.

The students met every two weeks to conduct business and attend programs. Club members had a Thanksgiving party, participated in the Homecoming parade dressed in native costume, sponsored the Fort Hays Soccer team, and staged an International Dinner.

Student Education Association

Hosting the state convention in March was the primary undertaking of the Fort Hays SEA. With the theme "Innovation or Stagnation," the convention featured guest speaker Dr. Joseph Sathory, director of the K-State education department. State election of officers took place at the convention, along with rap sessions and a banquet. Exhibits of relia kits from all over the state were available for viewing at this time.

Other SEA activities included attending the regional conference in October, and the national regional conference. Issues covered in SEA meetings were those of teachers' legal rights and the new 16-week teaching block being offered.

QSO'ERS

The QSO'ERS, ham radio operators in the Hays area, conducted meetings and programs on the technical aspects of ham radio operation. Study groups were offered by the QSO'ERS for anyone interested in amateur radio or being approved by the FCC as an operator. The club is associated with the American Radio Relay League, and some club members participated in emergency tests and traffic nets.

Spiritual guidance, for any denomination, is an ever-present opportunity on the campus and in the city of Hays. Church groups encourage active student participation in group discussions, Sunday night suppers, interfaith get-togethers, and orientation groups. These and many other functions comprise the available means by which students can incorporate religion into their academic life. The SOC-approved religious organizations on campus are: Baptist Student Movement, Campus Crusade for Christ, Catholic Campus Center, Chi Alpha, Gamma Delta, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, and United Christian Ministries in Higher Education.

The Individual

Guiding

In appreciation of 25 years of service on the Fort Hays State faculty, the Alumni Association presented medallions to these persons at the annual faculty dinner. Seated: Dr. Joel Moss, chairman, department of art; Cade Suran, director of athletics; Marion Coulson, associate professor of English; Dr. Verna Parish, chairman, department of English. Standing: Wilmont Toalson, chairman, department of mathematics; Dr. Archie Thomas, professor of business; Alex Francis, track and cross country coach; Dr. William Wilkins, professor of music; Dr. Harold Choguill, chairman, department of chemistry.

President John W. Gustad finds sheer fatigue the most difficult aspect of his position. His calendar is usually full at least one and a half months ahead. An evening at home with Mrs. Gustad is a rare occasion.

Many of the duties performed by the fifth president of Fort Hays State fall under the heading of public relations. Among these responsibilities are representing the college in Topeka at meetings of the Board of Regents, attending planning sessions with other area college administrators and speaking to local and area civic groups.

"Quality education is people," says President Gustad. He encourages faculty members to strive to be individuals and believes the efforts of students and faculty have contributed to a better atmosphere this year on campus.

President Gustad is an academician, widely known for a variety of works in scholarly publications as well as the author of a number of books.

Division of Humanities

The Humanities Division encompasses English, language, art, music, speech and drama and includes both undergraduate and graduate degrees in all fields.

"Any division is artificial," declares Dr. William Thompson, chairman of the Division of Humanities. "It may contain any of a dozen courses."

"There is a need for fewer specialists and more generalists," he added. "So we are developing new programs and revising old ones. The newest is the communications program, not yet in effect, but 'on the planning board'." This program would combine the fields of radio, speech, television and journalism into one major in communications. It would train an individual to be skilled in the many aspects of communication, thus enabling him to communicate more effectively.

The beauty in learning to create flowing form constitutes the more obvious aspects of the fine arts division (above right). Division of Social and Behavioral Sciences

Dr. John Tomlinson, chairman of the division of social and behavioral sciences, was instrumental in implementing the changes now apparent in his division (below right). Note taking and patient sitting through long lectures quickly becomes second nature to college students (bottom right).

"Revision" seems to be the word in the social science division this year. The most obvious of all the changes is the move into newly remodeled McCartney Hall. This new addition now houses business, history and sociology classes plus other social science courses. The hall is dedicated to Dr. E. Ray McCartney who joined the faculty as a member of the business and economics staff and served as Dean of the Faculty until his retirement in 1962.

Along with the facility changes, the departments of the social science division have also undergone course revisions. The history department added a new course, the history of science, in the spring. This trend toward revision is also reflected in the curriculum of the sociology department which contains courses designed to give students a cursory view of the contributions of major thinkers of the past, and to introduce them to the logic and methods of scientific investigation.

Economics

Dr. Jack McCullick, chairman of the department of economics, heads a relatively new department which came into existence only last spring (below left). Dreaded test days become realities all too soon as frustrated students search their minds for that crammed information (above left and below right).

Sociology

At the year's end every student dreads the inevitable ordeal of final exams (above left). The addition of a statistics lab to the sociology department afforded Dr. W. Nevell Razak, department chairman, and other faculty members ready access to facts and figures (above right). Oral reports made by student research committees provide a broader field of knowledge in the classroom (below).

Political Science

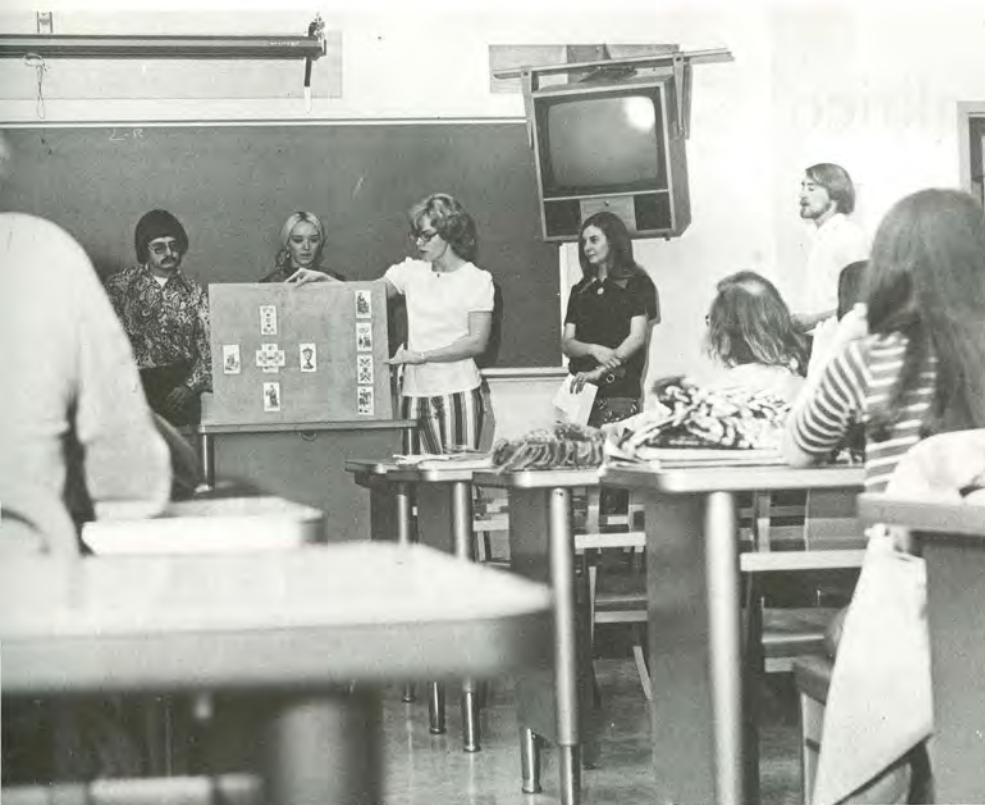

Dr. Donald Slechta, chairman of the political science department, notes the trend toward political specialization as government and law become increasingly more complex (above left). Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics

Learning through personal experience in the field seems to be the trend this year in the natural sciences and mathematics division. Students are gaining more insight into their field by taking trips, doing more laboratory work and developing a good research technique. For example, the biology department offers trips to Mexico and through the Rockies for field study. Students and faculty on these trips contribute to the research collections as well as to their own learning and understanding of biological concepts. The geography area also offers field studies which cover several of the western states, and in addition, include a full week in Hawaii. The chemistry and math departments both continue to stress laboratory and institute work. In the natural sciences division students are learning through doing.

The Fort Hays greenhouse provides both a lab for the botany students and a floral supply to beautify the campus year round (top right). Drs. Fleharty and Ely inspect a preserved penguin prior to a zoology session (far right). Earth science holds the key to pre-historic facts in these ancient relics and fossils (above left). Dr. Gerald Tomanek, chairman of the natural sciences and mathematics division, checks out new lab equipment purchased for many of the division's laboratories (above right). One of the largest in western Kansas, the telescope in Albertson Hall scans the spring skies for a closer look at the heavens (lower). Dr. Howard Reynolds can often be seen with his botany classes on field trips studying the campus foliage (lower center). Gaining insight into electrical circuitry composes only a small part of the broad field of physics (above left). Dr. Maurice Witten, chairman of the physics department, becomes aware of his growing department as the need for new lab equipment increasingly appears (above right). As the museum's assets continue to increase, more display space must be provided (below left). Myrl Walker, chairman of the earth science department, prepares many of the fossil and geological displays for the museum (below right).

Division of Nurse Education

One of the major innovations in the nursing program is the change to a full baccalaureate program and the awarding of the degree, Bachelor of Science in Nursing, instead of the B.S. in general science degree formerly given. Awarded May 14, 1971 for the first time in Fort Hays's history, the new degree carries national accreditation enabling nursing majors to enter graduate programs immediately. The general science degree did not meet qualifications for immediate entrance.

Another change is the addition of the Community Health course for seniors. This is a field practice course in which the students visit homes and render nursing care under the direction of the patient's doctor.

The College nursing program is keeping pace with the ever-broadening field of medicine and nursing care and attracting both men and women to the profession.

A marked rise in the number of male nurses is apparent on campus, as it is all over the country (above). Initial practice with models prepares students for later work with hospital patients (left).

Division of Education

Keeping pace with the expanding field of education, the education division is experiencing many changes.

More pre-teaching situations are provided for all students in teacher education through the extensive use of simulation, instructional media, micro-teaching and off-campus visitation of schools.

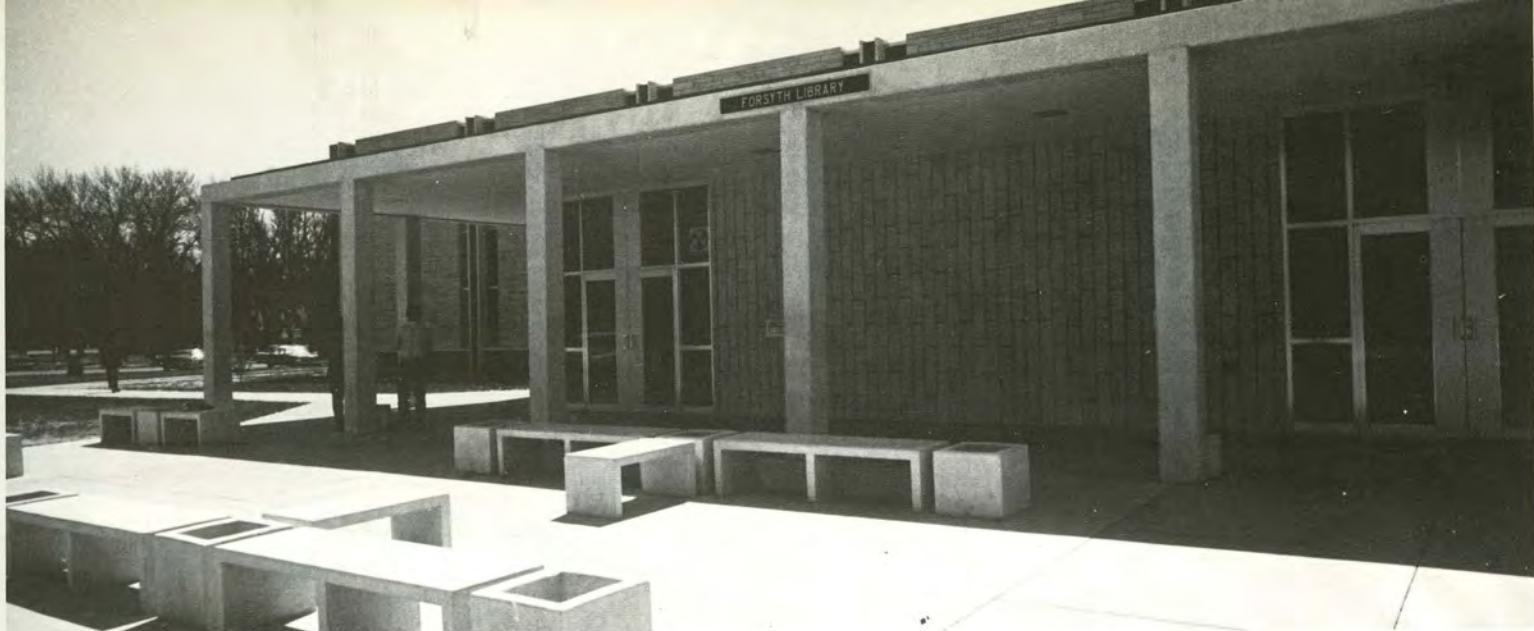

The home economics curriculum has broadened to give added interest and depth and to provide training for a variety of careers. Recent laboratory developments in the areas of plastics and electricity enable the industrial arts department to better promote the understanding of technology.

The big innovation in the health, physical education and recreation department is the new HPER complex which will house the Paul B. Gross Memorial Coliseum and Cunningham Hall which has room for class rooms, offices, an Olympic-size swimming pool, handball courts, several small gymnasiums and locker rooms.

Designed to prepare students for elementary and secondary teaching, counseling, supervision and administration, the education division includes the departments of education, health, physical education and recreation, home economics, industrial arts and library science (above, far left and center). Dr. Calvin Harbin, chairman of the education division, finds keeping track of changes a full-time job (middle left).

Library Science

A center of knowledge and culture for Fort Hays faculty and students, Forsyth Library houses a balanced collection of approximately 500,000 items (above). Newspapers, periodicals, books and government documents are added to the library annually (left center). Marc Campbell heads the library science department which was created to 1) develop the student's ability to locate and use library materials and to undertake scholarly research in an efficient manner, 2) prepare students to meet Kansas certification requirements for school librarians, and 3) provide strong foundation for persons wishing to take graduate work in library science (left).

Listening

Fort Hays offers degrees in several areas, the divisions of which are often confusing. The 1971-73 General Catalogue explains them thus:

Four graduate degrees are offered on two levels. The Master of Science (M.S.) degree, the Master of Arts (M.A.) degree and the Master of Music (M.M.) degree are awarded for the first year of graduate study. The Specialist in Education degree is given for one year of advanced graduate study beyond the Master's degree.

The M.A. degree is granted in the areas listed at right, as is the M.M. degree. The M.S. degree is granted in twenty-five subject areas, many of which require a thesis. The Specialist in Education degree is offered for the superintendent, elementary principal, the counselor, the secondary principal, the subject field consultant at the elementary level in reading, art and music, and the subject field consultant in English.

The Bachelor of Arts (A.B.) degree and the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree are offered in the Liberal Arts area of the College. Requirements for these undergraduate degrees provide a broad education encompassing multiple areas of study. Courses are taken in humanities, natural sciences and mathematics, and social and behavioral sciences. A.B. and B.S. majors may be in the same subject fields with the distinction that A.B. degrees usually carry a language requirement and B.S. degrees require that a student have 50 hours of sciences with a minimum of 30 hours in one subject field. These degrees are listed at right.

Curricula offered in the Applied Arts provide intensive preparation in a given field, usually for a particular vocation or profession. Applied Arts degrees are listed as B.S. in (major), at right.

Liberal Arts Degrees

This is the story of the 1971-72 school year at Fort Hays State. You, the students, have made it memorable and we have shared the often lonely task of recording it for you.

I hate to see this year end and the yearbook work finished. There is nothing to say but "thanks" to the ten other staff members who have made the book a reality. I've learned a lot about you and with you. The times we didn't think it was worth it but kept on have paid off and I think we have a book to be proud of. Seeing the last pages shipped leaves me with an empty feeling and the wish that I could come back next year and start again.

Although eleven of us have done the work on this book, with the help of "the best yearbook adviser in Kansas", we don't pretend to be big frogs in a little pond. We've all been swimming in this together.
